A Dangerous Embargo
Can Uncle Sam Afford It?
Billy Sunday Says No
Four Things You Need

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27—A gasoline price war holds public interest at the moment here. Standard of California's cut of two cents, to meet erratic price cutting, was followed by deeper cuts by other companies. The oil situation is one and an elimination process is gradually weed out weaker sisters.

The antiquated Sherman act prevents common sense business arrangements, makes conditions chaotic. Some American companies demand an embargo on oil from foreign countries. Powerful companies that own inexhaustible subterranean "lakes of oil" in Venezuela and elsewhere oppose the embargo.

They want to bring in their cheap foreign oil. They are profiting this country's interests, perhaps without knowing or caring. An embargo would hasten the extinction of American wells, putting producers and the mother industry at the mercy of foreign well owners. What that would mean to this country learned when Britain controlled rubber and regulated the price.

• • •

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S veto of the soldiers' bonus bill expresses the sincere conviction that the bill would be harmful to the country as well as the men. Repassage of the bill over the veto will, perhaps, decide whether the President and Mr. Mellon or congressmen and service men were right.

Many believe that making it possible for three million men to spend a billion and a half of dollars quickly will help business and not ruin Uncle Sam. He found ten billions quickly enough, when foreign nations wanted the money and survived that, although many of the billions will never come back from Europe.

• • •

BILLY SUNDAY, at whose name gorgons and chimeras dire—yes, even Satan himself—shiver and shake, refuses an enormous sum offered for moving picture work. He makes a mistake, neglecting to put conversion and saving of souls on a production basis. His speeches scare sinners, and describe hell in a way to keep you awake, searching your conscience. But what are words, compared with sight? Seeing is believing. Irving Thalberg of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer would make a picture of hell in action, the arch fiend, devouring sinners at each of his three mouths, the horrid dog Cerbus with his assorted barks, the terrible hag, swallowing her young, and the saw-dust paths of repentance would be crowded

• • •

BILLY SUNDAY'S VOICE would be heard above the crackling of flames, and the wailing of the sinners saying "I told you so." What an opportunity! And at the end a close-up of Billy Sunday, and "Ma" Sunday, their work on earth done, rising to glory, a million angels crowding to congratulate them, saying: "It's thanks to you, Billy, that I am up here, instead of down there."

JUDGE DENIES VENUE CHANGE FOR 2 RALLS

JURY CALLED NEXT WEEK

Prosecutor and Defense Counsel Clash Over Affidavits During Hearing.

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, O., Feb 27—Walter and Blanton Ralls must go on trial here next week before a jury composed of Crawford county residents, Judge Clarence Ahl ruled this afternoon when he denied a change of venue.

Judge Ahl said that if at any time during the course of selecting a jury it became apparent that an impartial jury could not be picked, a motion for a change in venue could be filed

After examining 24 of the 67 witnesses subpoenaed to appear at the hearing all of whom signed affidavits to the effect that the two Ralls could not get a fair trial in Crawford county, the state rested and dismissed the remaining witnesses Thursday afternoon.

The remainder of the afternoon session was spent in taking testimony of Elmer Lutz and Arden Wisman, attorneys for Blanton Ralls, regarding the affidavits. Upon being questioned by Sears, Lutz admitted that many persons approached by him refused to sign the petitions.

Practically all of the 24 witnesses examined admitted upon cross questioning that the two men could be given as fair a trial in Crawford county as in any other county if a jury could be selected that could lay aside any prejudices that they had already formed. Several contended that although jurors honestly tried to lay aside their prejudices they would still be swayed by their former opinions in making a verdict.

Complying with an objection offered by the defense to a number of the 177 affidavits presented by the state in which the change of venue was opposed, because of Prosecutor J. D. Sears' signature on them, the prosecutor withdrew the affidavits from the exhibit.

Witnesses examined during the afternoon were E. H Ulmer of Chatfield, J. B. Motsch of Galion, John F. Conway of Galion, V. W. Lohr of Galion, J. A. Row of Galion, Queenie Hessenauer of Galion, Walter Hessenauer of Galion, O. W. Cronenwett of Galion, E. W. McHenry of Galion, Charles M. Pfahler of Cranberry township; Charles Heydinger of New Washington, Dwight S. Mutchler of Bucyrus, Laura B. Curtis of Galion, W. M. Brause of Lykens, S. H. Soltz of Brokensword, Wallace White of Bucyrus, J. E. Geisenhiter of Galion, J. A. White of Oceola, Earl Robinson of Bucyrus, Ray Cook of Galion and Rev. R. N McCann of Bucyrus

CONTINUE HUNT FOR MISSING GIRL FLIER

Three Theories Advanced as to Whereabouts of Edna May Cooper.

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27—Three theories as to the whereabouts of Edna May Cooper, 26, aviatrix and former film actress, reported missing since Tuesday, were advanced today.

Melvin Wickman, tram-car operator, reported to police she had asked him the way to Santa Monica canyon, Tuesday. She was walking, he said, and carried a traveling bag.

Mrs. Mary Cooper said her daughter had been worried over finances of the endurance flight in which she and Bobbie Trout set a refuelling record for women, of 122 hours, 50 minutes, adding she may have gone to a rest home or hospital.

Miss Trout said Miss Cooper had often spoken to her of a banker admirer and suggested they might have eloped.

Columbus Man Indicted in Ashland for Rum Runner's Death.

ASHLAND, O., Feb. 27 — Frank Maloney, 24, of Columbus, was under indictment today for the alleged murder of Hoyt (Whitey) Eakins, Columbus rum-runner, who was shot to death three weeks ago.

An indictment naming Maloney as the killer was returned after the Ashland county grand jury heard testimony of three Columbus men who were said to have witnessed the shooting.

Officials said the killing was the outgrowth of a hijacking episode.

"Court Not To Be Tampered with," Chicago Judge Declares.

FINDS AFFIDAVIT FALSE

Racketeer Chief's Imprisonment To Be in County Jail.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—Al Capone was convicted of contempt in federal court today and sentenced to six months in county jail.

Judge Wilkerson in announcing his decision declared it was evident the affidavit which attempted to show Capone was ill and in bed when he was wanted by the government two years ago, was glaringly false." The effect of the affidavit, the judge declared, was to "hamper the administration of justice" and that 'this court is not to be tampered with"

The contempt consisted of Capone's failure to appear before a federal grand jury in 1929. He sent an affidavit, accompanied by a doctor's certificate from his Miami, Fla., home that he was too ill to risk a trip to Chicago Later the federal attorney charged, it was learned that Capone had been at the races and had made a trip to Bermuda during the time of his alleged illness.

Physicians Testify

During the hearing Capone produced two physicians and two nurses who testified that the defendant was really ill at the time he refused to come to Chicago. They said removal from the mild climate of Florida, to the rigorous north might cause a relapse.

The gang leader returned to Chicago Friday secretly and kept himself secluded until the case was called. He slipped into the federal court room heavily guarded and unobserved on the three days of the hearing.

He talked with newspaper men during the trial but today refused to answer a telephone call from London, saying he knew no one there.

The contempt charge grew out of Capone's failure to respond to the call from the grand jury, which was investigating incomes

ORDERED DEPORTED

Labor Secretary Gives Decision Against Capone Bodyguard.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Secretary of Labor Doak today ordered the deportation of Tony ("Mops") Volpe, known as a bodyguard of Al Capone, Chicago gang chief, and labelled as a public enemy by a Chicago civic committee.

The order came at the end of an inquiry which led to the determination that Volpe was an alien unlawfully in the United States.

Volpe's association with Capone has been intimate and he is in addition, brother-in-law to the late "Diamond Joe" Esposito, whose death occurred in one of the gang struggles. Volpe was placed third on the list of "public enemies' which the committee formally named months ago.

Volpe will be returned to Italy.

BANDITS KILL MAN

Pennsylvania Barbecue Owner Murdered With Hands in Air.

By International News Service.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 27—Frank J. McGreevy, proprietor of a barbecue stand midway between McKeesport and Irwin, was shot down and killed by one of three bandits today as McGreevy hastened to comply with a "hands up" order.

"Don't shoot, my money is in my hip pocket. Take it," McGreevy, hands high in air, told the bandit covering him. The thug reached for McGreevy's hip pocket, discovered a revolver, jerked it from the pocket and shot McGreevy through the heart at point blank range.

The three men escaped in a stolen automobile.

TAX LEAGUE BOOSTS ROLL AT MEETINGS

Marion Men Are Speakers at Two Group Sessions in County.

Marion men were speakers at group meetings of the Marion County Taxpayers' association last night at the Grand Prairie school building and Caledonia town hall.

New members of the association were obtained after both meetings. Meetings last night were the first of a series throughout the county to build up membership of the organization to 2,000.

C. E. Merkel, president of the Marion Savings bank, Attorneys Fred L. Carhart and Fred W. Warner of the law firm of Carhart & Warner, and Dr. Frederic C. Smith were among the speakers. Horace W. Cookston, former state representative, was also a speaker at the Grand Prairie meeting

Asks Equalization

A plea for equal taxation of all utilities was made by Carhart, talking at Grand Prairie school building to 100 persons. He pointed out that railroads are taxed four per cent as compared with the one and two-tenths per cent assessed gas, water and electric utilities

He also said a measure is needed to compel utilities to list the same valuation for taxing purposes that are used for rate-making purposes Abolishment of the primary election and centralization of county government into one unit, eliminating the township trustees, were urged by Carhart as economy measures. He urged a pay-as-you-go policy for government, asserting that too many bonds have been issued

Prices of farm implements now and 15 years ago were compared by C. E. Merkel, who asserted the present price is treble that of several years ago Farmers take no interest in the tariff, but the tariff on pig iron is largely responsible for the increase in the price of farm machinery in Marion county, he said. He urged a more healthy interest in the activities of the government

Cookston directed his talk toward the school system, declaring that no further payments to the $40,000,000 teachers' retirement fund should be made until this figure is reduced

STORM DEATHS MOUNT TO 250

RAGES FOR 24 HOURS

By The Associated Press.

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Feb 27—With at least 250 persons, including five Europeans, dead, this South Sea Island group turned today to the task of aiding the hundreds of injured and thousands left homeless by a terrific hurricane which raged for more than 24 hours last Saturday and Sunday

Striking virtually without warning, the hurricane started at noon Saturday. It blew itself out late Sunday and since then Suva and vicinity has been all but isolated The extent of damage was not learned here until today, when communications were partially restored.

Authorities still were using native couriers to gather information. One was dispatched to the Ba district. He swam the swollen Ba river and ran the 40 miles to Ba and return in 48 hours. He found at least 80 dead and said at one place 1,200 refugees were awaiting food and shelter.

Unconfirmed dispatches from the Sigattoka district said 100 were drowned by floods resulting from torrential rains which accompained the terrific winds. The Lautoka district reported 17 identified dead and 23, including four Europeans, missing. Dispatches said they were believed to have been killed or drowned.

During the height of the storm a train on the Ba-Lautoka railway was blown off the tracks, killing one person and injuring many, Lautoka dispatches said.

LEGAL CLASHES ENLIVEN TRIAL

Prosecutor Threatens Impeachment of Testimony in Murder Hearing.

DRAWS IRE OF JUDGE

Court Scores "Third Degree" Methods in Bridge Game Slaying.

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27 Threats of James R. Page, prosecuting attorney, to impeach the testimony of a state witness heightened interest today in the trial of Mrs Myrtle A. Bennett, 35, accused of slaying her husband after a bridge game quarrel.

Judge Ralph E. Latshaw, presiding, denounced the prosecutor for "legal third degree methods" in a sharp exchange over the testimony of Charles M. Hoffman yesterday that the widow wept as she lay beside her husband's body and "wanted to use the gun on herself."

Judge Raps Attorney

"Suppose this witness is a perjurer," the judge demanded. "Where is your case?"

Hoffman and his wife were players in the bridge game that preceded the fatal shooting of John G. Bennett, wealthy representative of a perfume company, Sept. 29, 1929

Page, denied an opportunity to "refresh the memory of this witness," launched an attack which drew fire from the judge as well as defense counsel, James A. Reed and J. Francis O'Sullivan.

With the jury excluded, he quoted from a record purporting to be Hofman's statements at the preliminary hearing—"she brushed me aside and opened fire."

Prosecutor Defends Self

"In every particular," the prosecutor asserted, "this witness has changed his testimony. Unless I am allowed to compare these stories before a jury I may as well dismiss the case."

Mrs. Bennett, unrouged and pale, sat intent at the counsel table, nervously biting her lips.

Hofman related earlier Bennett slapped his wife after she termed him a "bum bridge player" for losing a doubled bid on four spades

CALL DAUGHERTY

Former Banker Resumes Testimony in Abstraction Trial.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Feb. 27—Mal S Daugherty, former president of the closed Ohio State bank, was called to the witness stand today in his trial on a charge of abstraction of funds to resume his testimony interrupted by the death of his mother Tuesday.

Daugherty was on the stand when he was called to the bedside of his aged mother, Mrs. Jane Daugherty Monday afternoon. She died early the next morning and the trial was recessed for her burial yesterday.

The former banker has denied criminal responsibility in the failure of the institution last May. The state claims he abstracted more than $30,000 in bank funds by manipulation of notes.

NEW OWNERS NOW RUNNING N. Y. WORLD

Famous Newspaper Passes to Scripps-Howard; Merged with Telegram.

JUDGE AUTHORIZES SALE

Purchase Price Estimated at $5,000,000; Employes Get $500,000.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb 27 The New York World newspapers passed to the control of the Scripps Howard today

Promptly at midnight, Surrogate James A Foley decided that Joseph Pulitzer's will did not enjoin his three sons from disposing of their newspaper trust

Less than two hours later in a Wall street office, the sale was consummated by the three Pulitzer brothers, Ralph, Joseph Jr., and Herbert and Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps Howard paper this morning, merging the Evening World, the Morning World, and the Sunday World with the New York Telegram. The new paper is known as the World Telegram

Payment Terms

The contract provides for a cash payment of $500,000, $2,000,000 in notes, $500,000 cash within 90 days, and $2,000,000 more contingent upon profits of the new enterprise. The physical properties, such as building and machinery, are not involved in the sale

First Issue Out

The combined Telegram, Evening World and Morning World made its first appearance today

The first edition, on the streets early this forenoon, carried the mastheads of all three newspapers, thus signalizing the end of the World newspapers as separately conducted by Joseph Pulitzer and his heirs for almost half a century

In its news story of the change, the combined World Telegram announced that the Morning World and the Sunday World would not be published hereafter

The Pulitzer brothers issued a statement saying economic conditions had made the sale "inexorable" and that $500,000 of the proceeds would be distributed to employes

"The trustees cannot pretend that it is anything but a painful duty to pass the World newspapers into other hands But there is a fortunate mitigation in the spirit of the new ownership which is thoroughly hospitable to the World tradition May it carry on that tradition with the fullest measure of public service and success"

Mr Howard referred to the sale as "not the death of the New York World, but its rebirth"

Surrogate Foley ruled that he held jurisdiction only over the legality, advisability and necessity of disposing of the papers and not over the pending contract of sale

Last Edition Ceremonies

The task of sending the World to press for the last time went forward in the gold domed building on Park Row as the news of the sale came in.

The 2,667 workers paid their farewells in silence, tears and song. Gathered around James W Barrett, city editor for 10 years, the editorial staff sang to the tune of "Good Night, Ladies," an improvised swan song, "Good Bye, World, We're Going to Leave You Now," swept through the paper-littered room and the last staff meeting became history.

Thus passed a newspaper acquired by Joseph Pulitzer in 1883 and developed by him into an institution.

FIRE FOLLOWS THEFT

Four Burned, One Fatally, in E. Liverpool Home Blaze.

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Feb. 27—Four persons were burned, one probably fatally, and three others escaped uninjured today when fire, believed to have followed a robbery in which $285 was stolen, swept the first floor of the home of William Raben on Seventh street.

The injured: Mrs. Barbara Berg, 68, mother-in-law of Raben, recently injured in an automobile accident, expected to die from burns over lower part of body; Mrs. Evelyn J. Halpata, 23, of Toronto, O., right foot burned; Celeste Raben, 17, both feet burned; Jeanette Raben, 14, minor burns to body.

After the fire Raben told police that Mrs. Halpata sought the pillow of his bed in a room unbeknown by the them, and that Clarence, awakening startled, on a chair, had been stolen. He said he believed the home was robbed preceding the fire which was considered to indicate wiring.

WEEK'S DISPUTE ENDED

Special Session Threat Apparently Passes with Today's Action.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb 27 Congressional conferees reached an agreement today on the terms of the naval appropriation, the last of the supply measures.

President Hoover had urged a break in their disagreement at a breakfast conference today.

The senate and house conferees a short time later came to a quick settlement in their dispute, which had continued for almost a week

With the March 4 adjournment nearing the President took a hand lest there be any danger of failure of the naval bill, the last of the vital supply measures which must be passed to avoid the extra session.

Agree on $10,000,000

The conferees agreed to the senate's provisions of $10,000,000 for the construction of 11 destroyers.

On the point that brought on the difficulty whether the construction was to be confined to private or government shipyards—the conferees agreed it should be done in government yards, time and facilities permitting

Senator Hale, Republican of Maine, chairman of the conferees, immediately reported the agreement to the senate. Early adoption

HOOVER VETO VOTED DOWN IN BOTH HOUSES

Senate Completes Turndown of President's Disapproval in Vote Today.

GALLERIES ARE CROWDED

Bill for 50 Per Cent Borrowing on Certificates Becomes Law Immediately.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 -The veterans' loan bill was enacted into law today over the veto of President Hoover.

The senate voted decisively to override the Presidential opposition. This action, coupled with a similar decision yesterday by the house, put the law into immediate effect.

The act authorizes World war veterans to borrow up to half the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates an estimated average of $500 being made available to each of the 3,488,000 ex service men who hold the insurance

As in the house, the senate flounted the veto with little ceremony With two-thirds votes required, the house count was 328 to 79

The senate vote to override the veto was 76 to 17.

The debate opened before crowded galleries

Presaging rejection of the veto the senate added $2,000,000 to the deficiency measure to provide for the expenses of administering the loan bill

Senator Vandenberg, one of the administration stalwarts, opened the debate with a plea to disregard the veto. He dissented with the President, "with the greatest reluctance," but argued that "the facts are the same as when the senate voted 72 to 12 to pass this legislation"

Called Sane Solution

"This bill is a sane solution of the perplexing question which some have proposed to answer with a $3,000,000,000 or $4,000,000,000 program," the Michigan senator said.

Vandenberg said the bill's loan proposal bill was satisfactory when the larger cash payment plan was threatening and therefore still should be. He criticized portions of the veto message as "incomplete" or "over complete" but said he was glad the message did not predict the "dire results" to the nation's economic structure that other opposition statements had.

The President's intimation of increased taxes, Vandenberg said, was "overcomplete"

"If there is tax increase next winter it will not be because of this legislation," he said "We are not creating a new debt, but merely transferring the form of a present obligation."

Hastings on Other Side

Senator Hastings, Republican of Delaware, replied to Vandenberg, as senators called for a vote.

Reading a letter from a veteran constituent threatening to vote against him if he aided in sustaining the President's veto, Hastings said there were two forces back of the bill, the threat and the "sympathy aroused that the service men may be properly protected."

He deprecated the paying of money to a veteran who returned from the war without injury, saying he would give all he had in material wealth if he had the record of some of the veterans.

Hastings suggested that some veterans would "steal the certificates" from their wives and go out and buy automobiles.

House Acts Speedily

The house action was curt and prompt. In less than an hour after the message came from the White House late yesterday, 336 representatives had voted to override the veto and only 79 stood by

Art Club Members To Hear Chicago Painter, Lecturer

ART CLUB members have in store for them another rare treat not scheduled on the program with the appearance here of Dudley Crafts Watson of the Chicago Art Institute who will be heard in a lecture in the Hotel Harding ballroom the night of March 10. Plans for the meeting were completed at the meeting of the club members last night at the library. Mr. Watson, who is a painter, author and lecturer of note and ranks second to Lorado Taft, will talk on "Contemporary American Sculptors" and "Outstanding American Women Sculptors."

Miss Belle Johnston, chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting, has announced that a few tickets will be available for persons aside from the club members wishing to attend the lecture.

During the business session the members voted to endorse the Vestal Design copyright bill, now pending in congress, designed to prevent the pirating of designs, a practice deemed detrimental to the development of industrial art. Telegrams will be sent by the club to senators and representatives voicing their endorsement. Mrs. David Sears of Harpster, was enrolled as a new member.

Miss Isabel Freer discussed Laura Gardin Fraser and illustrated her talk with slides belonging to Mrs. Fraser and Miss Winona Hughs discussed Malvina Hoffman Grimson, daughter of Richard Hoffman and Mrs. T. H. Sutherland gave a talk on Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney.

Short talks were given by Mrs. Glenna Clevenger and Mrs. J. C. Ackerman on the lives of Brenda Putnam and Abastinia St. Legen Eberle. The next regular meeting will be March 12 at the library.

Does Your Mirror Tell?

A satiny, clear, beautiful skin depends largely upon the blood and the circulation, as do pink cheeks and bright eyes. Enrich the blood and the skin will take care of itself. Rich, red healthy blood nourishes the body and aids in protecting it against pimples and blemishes. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will help nature give you this power. Internal healthfulness will then reflect in your skin a natural loveliness. It is surprising how soon you feel the effects of this wonderful tonic. Where before that tired, achy, dull feeling was frequent, now the energizing influence of this herbal tonic brings back the pink cheeks, the bright eyes, the buoyant spirits. It tones up the stomach . . . is very efficacious in indigestion, and increases the appetite. All druggists sell.

Marion Music Patrons Spend Delightful Evening at Concert

MUSIC patrons of the city and vicinity again demonstrated their appreciation of the Community Organ Recital club's efforts to bring to Marion outstanding artists and enable the public to enjoy beautifully-toned Koogler organ, when James Philip Johnston presented his recital to a capacity audience in the First Presbyterian church last night. Mr. Johnston is organist and choir director in the Westminster Presbyterian church of Dayton. Completing the program were numbers by the Lecture-Recital club chorus, the Canto club chorus and the chorus of the Marion Concert association.

From the introduction of the opening number, Handel's "Second Concerto" to the final note of the ture to Rossini's "William Tell," the dramatic interpretation of the overorganist played with a mastery and warmth which was at once compelling and appealing. A keen sense of harmony, Mr. Johnston brought out the melody notes with clearness and emphasis while giving full weight to accompanying figures. The concert was one of delightful interest and entertainment and its arrangement brought out the full effect and volume of the magnificent organ.

Members of the local music clubs sang the numbers which brought them honors in the eisteddfod this week at Lima, the number presented by the association being the winner of the mixed chorus contest at the song fest.

In keeping with his first number, Mr. Johnston chose for his second presentation "Adagio in A Minor," by Handel's famous contemporary. Bach. Following this he played a brilliant number, "O Edipe a Thebes," composed by Mercaux, an able French pianist of the nineteenth century and from that selection delighted his audience with Coleman's hiring "Londonderry Air," sometimes known as the "Farewell to Cucullain."

Following his presentation of "Orientale" by Cui, the organist played two of his own compositions, "Adagio," the central movement of a Sonata in G Minor and "Canon" a number inspired by musical preparation for the Christmas season in 1927.

Other numbers presented by the organist were "French Rondo" by Boellmann, "Evening," by Martin, the prologue from "Suite in G Minor" by Rogers, Russell's effective "Bells of St. Anne de Beaupre," and the concluding number, the overture to "William Tell."

No small amount of credit is due the directors and singers of the local music clubs in their renditions of their selections. T. R. Evans directed the Lecture-Recital club chorus for their presentation of "Rain," by Curran and the number by the concert association, "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan. The Canto club's number, a selection by Elgar, was directed by Ernst C. Carl. Accompanists for the clubs were Miss Melvia Summers of the women's group and Miss Dorothy Briggs the Canto club. Miss Briggs presided at the piano and Mrs. Harry T. Williams played the organ for the presentation of the mixed chorus number and also presided at the organ for the singing of "America" by the audience.

Epworth M. E. Aid Circle No. 7 Has Guest Day

MRS. C. E. TURLEY received about 85 members and guests of Circle No. 7, Epworth M. E. Aid society at a guest day tea yesterday afternoon at the parsonage on East Center street. Hinamon and Mrs. A. N. Grimes. The tea table was attractively decorated with snapdragons and pussywillows.

Mrs. A. M. Hunter opened the program with a piano number, "New Spring" by Lang and Mrs. Turley sang "Jesus Is My Neighbor," playing her own accompaniment on the autoharp. Mrs. J. E. Oliphant and Mrs. D. E. Montgomery presided for the devotional service and Miss Cleo Finley gave a brief sketch of the Psalms.

"Hark, Hark, the Lark," by Schubert was the title of a vocal trio sung by Mrs. Turley, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. H. K. Henderson accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. A. Arter. Mrs. Merle Hamilton entertained with a group of readings, "The Weaver of a Flag," "Truthful George" and "A Thought." Mrs. Turley and Mrs. Hunter sang "Tell Us Merry Birds" and "Everywhere," and Mrs. Neidhart closed the program with a contest, "Know Your Bible."

GUESTS OF CIRCLE

Aid Group of Epworth Church Holds Meeting.

Ohio Mother Knew Best

WISE mothers find the things that keep children contented, happy, well. Most of them have learned they can depend on one thing to restore a youngster's good nature when he's cross, fretful, upset.

The experience of Mrs. W. J. Winter, 1407 East 88th St., Cleveland, is a typical one. She says: "I have used California Fig Syrup with both my boys for a number of years. Whenever they're the least bit constipated or restless I give them a little. It has them comfortable, happy, well in a jiffy. Their splendid condition proves I knew best when I decided to use this wonderful preparation with them."

Physicians endorse the use of pure vegetable California Fig Syrup when bad breath, coated tongue, dullness, feverishness, listlessness, etc., show a child's bowels are in need of help. Weak stomach and bowels are toned by its gentle aid; appetite increased; digestion and assimilation are so assisted that weak, undernourished children quickly improve in weight, strength and energy.

The genuine always bears the word California. So look for that when buying. All druggists have it.

THE CRIME IN THE DUTCH GARDEN

BY HERBERT ADAMS

(Copyright, 1930, J. B. Lippincott Co.)

CHAPTER 27
A Plot Nipped!

EVELYN'S face went white. "Have you," she whispered, "told the policeman what you discovered?"

"Constable Roscoe?" Jimmie laughed. "No. I know, and now you know I'll get Richmond to meet me in the Dutch garden tonight and tell him."

"The Dutch garden—tonight?"

"Yes. I'll sit in that seat facing the one where your aunt sat. Your man can send Richmond around to me. I thought perhaps you might want to give a little party celebrating the news of your sister's wedding."

"When will he come?"

"About 10. Don't tell any one what I've told you."

"I won't, but shouldn't you tell him at once?"

"If I sit here first, I think I'll be able to picture the whole thing."

"I'll do as you wish," she said, with some effort mastering her agitation. "I had thought of inviting some friends But isn't it possible you are mistaken?"

"Impossible," said Jimmie.

"No one but you knows about it?"

"I have told you and I shall not tell any one else until I see Richmond tonight, I rely on you to help catch the guilty person."

When he arrived at the Wade home, Nancy ran out to say that Evelyn had telephoned her about Marjorie's marriage and to invite them over for the evening. He told her that Donald would likely be busy elsewhere but that she should go.

There were six in the small party that assembled that evening at Merrow Craig, the same little group gathered together The young couple had gone, Donald and Jimmie were absent, but Major Gresham, Bill Netherton, Nancy and Lionel were present to toast the bridal pair with champagne, served by Janet in the room in which they had previously played cards

Major Gresham, talkative after the fourth glass, told Netherton that he had thought Marjorie was fond of him and not Stirling. Bill agreeing quietly that others might have thought so. "Why didn't she say it was Stirling at the inquest?" continued the major.

"Maybe she didn't want to drag her private affairs in public."

"D'ye mean you knew it all along?" queried Gresham

"I may have guessed

It appeared that Evelyn had kept her promise to Jimmie and had not told her friends about Green, since no one questioned when the major termed him a blackguard. Her self-control was wonderful Except for an occasional glance at the clock there was nothing to suggest the secret. Finally she suggested bridge "If Lionel and I play the first rubber we will cut out after and leave you four while we have some music"

Nancy and Bill Netherton played against Evelyn and Duckworth Evelyn and her fiance were losing but if she was inattentive, it was hardly surprising.

Once again Evelyn glanced at the clock. The hour was approaching when Jimmie was to meet the superintendent. What would happen after that?

"Your rubber," she said to Nancy. "Come along along, Lionel. Leave the experts fight it out together"

Evelyn and her lover went into the next room. The game proceeded to the sounds of music. Duckworth was singing and Evelyn playing. The clear powerful voice rang through the house, but it did not distract the players, though one of them would wanted from the table when his partner played his hand.

All was still in the Dutch garden, where a figure sat motionless in the seat beside the stone steps Above it, the satyr stretched its arms in evil invitation.

The minutes passed without outward sound or movement. No light was visible from the music room, for that door was shut and the curtain drawn across it. The music continued. The song, "To the Desert," was begun

Then silently, but quickly, a shadow moved from the shade of the house to the hedge-hidden pathway leading to the Dutch garden. The form crept nearer to the broad stone steps and crawled up to the level of the wall on which the satyr stood. Then it leapt up, gloved hands gave the stone image a swift, unhesitating thrust, and it fell, crashing on to the figure beneath.

No sound followed, but the snapping of woodwork and the breaking of the stone. The shadow stooped again and made to run. Then there was a sound' Two forms sprang from the shelter of the trees and seized the escaping criminal

The startled villian was thrown to the ground, and it was but a matter of moments for cords to secure his trembling limbs .

"You hold him now, Don. I will be back soon."

With these words Jimmie sprang away—started to run to the house. As he did so the clock in the hall struck 10 and the strong voice in the music-room sang the opening lines of "September Roses."

Jimmie crossed the lawn and hastened to the drive in front. There, punctual to the second, he met Superintendent Richmond.

"This way!" he led Richmond through the open hall door and headed toward the music room.

"Roses of memory, roses of September"—came the words clearly enough Silently he turned the handle but the door was locked Quickly they ran back, through the garden to the curtained doorway of the same room. Without a moment's hesitation Jimmie threw his weight against the door It yielded, and he stumbled through the parting curtains, the bewildered Richmond following.

At first the room appeared to be empty Then they saw Evelyn standing alone, trembling half-hidden by the curtains they had so rudely thrust aside.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD St LEWIS

ANOTHER week as good as gone This is the last of Friday, and tomorrow will be Saturday and the last day of this month and if next month is going to put on a lion act it better get ready. I let Jubilee down and it was so warm I thought I could begin to smell violets, and I bet I could of if the wind had been from the south instead of from the direction of the cow barn. When I went down by grandfather's plumbago was enough better so that he was getting ready to go fishing again. He had got his boots washed out and dried, and he said it had been so long since it had rained and the snow up in the hills must be all melted so the river and a lake where he goes fishing ought to be clear water, and he bet if he showed a bait near them the bass would come out and chase him half way home I said I didn't know bass came out on dry land, and he said he had yanked lots of them out on dry land. He said, "Grand, you ought to take warning from the bass. Nature has given him protective coloration to keep him out of trouble, but he has kept stretching his mouth so that now it is so big it is always getting him into trouble." I said, "Yessir." He said, "Understand what I mean?" I said, "Yessir. You have found out that having a big mouth gets a fella into trouble." He kinda chuckled down in his throat and said, "Let's let it go at that." I bet he thinks I am smart and is proud of me for understanding what he meant. I asted him what kind of a bait it was that he was looking at and he said it was what I am in the summer time, a "river runt" He thinks he is funny.

The big boy that broke the board at school yesterday wasn't at school today .He had sot down so hard he had bit his tongue and couldn't come Mush's wife said if they had any more trouble with us kids they were going to quit the job and let somsone else do the janiting I told her she wouldn't quit when the summer was so near here and the job would be so easy She told me some little boys were too smart for their own good some time. I told her the little boys she never had were smart all right just the same as them that my ant never had. I said boys knew how to pick out a good place to be born at She said if she was my mother she would blister me So then I didn't say anything more for fear I might pass a lady.

My grandfather only got one bass. But it was the biggest I ever saw. It weighed seven pounds and we had it for supper It tasted like mud, so there was a lot of it left. My grandfather said it was good But he caught it Younies said she would try to get her folks to come over so I tried to set up but I got sent to bed

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Challenges for a Plan She Can Resume Her Career.

I DID not have to wait long for Lillian's answer to my unspoken question as to the reason for the change in feeling toward me which she had declared was Philip Veritzen's.

"Phil doesn't know it, but domesticity has no attraction for him, she said "When he first met you, the Dicky bird and you weren't hitting it off particularly well, Junior was nowhere in evidence—you remember you had left him with Katherine down on the farm because you didn't think the city air was good for him you were sponsoring Mary, whose talent he spotted at once, and he didn't receive exactly a drab picture of you when I was 'selling' you I didn't have to try very hard, incidentally as the last word on authentic data for historical productions By the time Junior and Dicky appeared in the offing he was hooked through the gills and not even imagining a get-a-way. He's been faithful to his idea of you in his fashion—longer than I ever thought possible for old Phil But your Christmas celebration which simply exuded happy domesticity at every pore and following close upon that the news of your resignation from his organization because of your approaching motherhood I took particular pleasure in handing him that news these knocked him for seven goals You haven't seen him since that Christmas night have you?"

Phil Veritzen Unashamed

"No" I returned laconically The whole subject was so distasteful to me, that I felt as if I could add no other word to my negative

"No doubt, you thought he was so ashamed of himself for the emotional rumpus he staged that evening that he did not want to face you again," she said, and I felt a quickened renewal of my curiosity for she had voiced my thought exactly

"Phil Veritzen never was ashamed of himself in his life" Lillian went on grimly "If that had been all he would have been at your door the next morning with his arms full of orchids or gardenias or something like that No, it was the overthrowing of one image and the substitution of another which has made him fight shy of the farmhouse He simply doesn't care for the Madonna motif, that's all And he's had to take time to orient himself. When he sees you again as he'll have to pretty soon about that play, you'll find that he will have the most wonderful combination of respectful admiration for your genius and tender consideration for the wife—of any old friend, that you could imagine And you never, never will again be bothered by anything approaching romantic sentiment from him"

"I never want to set eyes on him again" I burst out childishly

"Don't say that to anybody else in the world but me," Lillian advised gravely "It sounds too much like wounded vanity Old Phil Veritzen never meant anything to you save a kindly and generous employer His only change now is to an admirer of your talent, and a prospective producer of your play pipe my artful alliteration" Why let anybody, even yourself imagine that a certain change in his emotional outlook matters one whit to you?"

She rose and put her hand on my shoulder

A Challenge

"Don't be mad at me, girl" she adjured "I had to get all this out of my system you need readjustment, although you probably don't realize it and I thought today the first Dicky's been away, was a good time to spring it I suppose I've put my foot in so far that I never can get it out again, but please write on my tombstone that I meant well Now I'm going to beat it for I don't believe I'm a particularly welcome sight on the horizon just now However I'm hoping you'll see after awhile what I'm trying to get at

There was something in her voice which told me that I had hurt her, and I caught at her hand with sudden remorse and pulled her down beside me

"If you dare go away!" I threatened unsteadily. "Do you think I don't realize the truth of what you're saying, and why you're saying it? I'm simply a bit upset over—everything—that's all."

"Is that to be wondered at?" She snatched at the chance of impersonality I had given her. "You've had enough the last few days to lay a perfectly strong woman on her back, let alone a lady who only recently left a hospital. That's just what I'm getting at. You're slipping right back into your old position of being the one to whom everyone comes, Junior for a sore thumb, Dicky for a lost collar button, Mother Graham for a 'settling' of Katie, me for general sympathy—we're all in it, and you're the goat. And you all the time with a Heaven-sent talent just longing to be let out. Woman, it's like harnessing a race horse to a plow. That's an outworn simile, I know, but it expresses just what I mean, and I'm using it until I think of something better."

"But, Lillian," I faltered, "even supposing I am committed enough to admit all you say, what am I going to do about it? I can't divorce Dicky and put my children into an orphanage and leave my home, just because Phil Veritzen says the first half of my play is good."

Lillian looked at me with an air of utter exasperation.

"I've read that people excelling in creative brainwork are often absolute morons along other mental lines" she said "and you're proving it Divorce' and orphanages' my word

"Look here'" I challenged suddenly, "if you can produce a plan whereby I can follow my 'career,' as you call it, and not neglect my husband and children I'll promise you to follow faithfully."

It takes three to make a pair—counting the minister.

City Pays Bill

A ...EP insight into the human ... of those who are forced ... on the city's charity for ... is obtained by scrutini... grocery orders as they ...ough the office of City ... L. Landes.

...ers are sent to the auditor ...ts in the form of bills. It is the auditor's duty to look them over and pass judgment on their legality and to determine whether or not there are sufficient funds in the treasury to pay the bills.

One order coming through from a grocery store included a package of chewing tobacco, which Auditor Landes decided had no place on the menu of a needy family obtaining a living from the city.

Even this item was not as ridiculous as an order which included a package of bird seed. Canaries must live, it seems, even if at the expense of the city.

Recalls Mrs. Dewey

THE death recently of Mrs. Mildred McLean Dewey, widow of Admiral George Dewey, Spanish-American war hero, recalls for M. L. Wilson, secretary of the Citizens Building & Loan Co., an incident in his boyhood when Mrs Dewey visited Marion.

It was back in 1899, the year following the war, when Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were on a tour of the country. Marion was one of their stops as they traveled from Columbus to Toledo over the Hocking Valley railroad.

Wilson wanted to hear Dewey's speech and to get near the scene of the festivities, so he climbed aboard the observation platform and nonchalantly took a seat.

One of Dewey's sons attempted to oust him when Mrs. Dewey, appearing from within the car, told her son to permit Wilson to stay. Wilson not only got the seat but also was the recipient of a bouquet of carnations, a gift of the admiral's wife.

Galion-Bucyrus Bus Line Petition Before Commission

PENNSY LOSES OPENING TILT

Motion To Dismiss Application for Permanent Certificate Overruled.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—Application of the Galion-Mansfield Transit Co. for permanent permission to operate between Galion and Bucyrus will be taken under advisement by the Ohio public service commission, according to Examiner Attorney T. C. Burneson who denied the Pennsylvania railroad's motion to dismiss the application.

This means that the transit company which now operates between Galion and Bucyrus on a temporary permit, has surmounted its second big obstacle in a battle to supplant the transportation service recently abandoned by the Cleveland Southwestern suburban electric lines.

High points of the hearing centered about E. M. Christy, supervising agent for the Pennsylvania, Fort Wayne division.

Objections by the Pennsylvania system's attorney, Andrew D. Rodgers, Columbus, frequently rang out as Attorney Carl J. Gugler of Galion and Judge Ralph Sanborn of Columbus cross-examined witnesses.

Questioning of Christy brought out that persons desiring transportation from Galion to Bucyrus, or the reverse, using the only carriers otherwise at their disposal, would have to take a train to Crestline as an intermediary point, then changing trains to complete the journey.

Under further cross examination, Christy read from the Pennsylvania's most recent time table, the connections which might be made at Crestline by passengers coming either way.

Christy, reading the time table admitted that in one or two instances three-hour waits were necessary to make proper connections.

Examiner Burneson had in his hands a petition signed by 11 persons who attested to the "public convenience and necessity" of such a bus service, stating that their daily business took them from Galion to Bucyrus and back or the reverse.

A resolution signed by the Galion Kiwanis club's president, Frank B. Duffy, also supported the application.

Repeal of Dry Law Subject of Club Debate

MONNETTE, Feb. 27—The Monnette Community club met for their February meeting Wednesday night at the Monnette school house. The question, "Resolved—That the Eighteenth Amendment be Repealed," was debated. The question was affirmed by A. A. Stuckman and C. L. McNeal. The negative side was taken by D. N. Harvey and Rev. James Miller. The judges who were C. S. Wert, Curtis Smith and Roy Hill decided in favor of the negative.

A playlet was given by pupils of the Eighth grade.

VETERAN LUMBERMAN SEES MANY CHANGES

Special to The Star.

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 27 — A half century has brought many changes in the lumber business, according to W. E. Miller, 77-year-old Mt. Gilead contractor who is one of the oldest active lumbermen in the state.

The source of Ohio's lumber supply has shifted the length of the continent in the 50 years Miller has been in the game. When he first started in business practically all the lumber came from Michigan. Those forests were cleared and now almost all of the supply comes from the south.

* * *

MANY of the best known buildings in Morrow county were erected by Mr. Miller. The extension to the courthouse 30 years ago, the local Trinity M. E. church, the Iberia school and a large building for the Ohio Home for the Blind at Iberia are but a few of the innumerable structures for which he was the contractor.

He is the dean of the Ohio Association of Retail Lumbermen. At a recent meeting he was the only member present who attended the first convention 50 years ago and the last one.

Miller, in spite of his 77 years, takes an active business and civic interest in the development of Mt. Gilead. He is connected with the Mt. Gilead Construction Co., the National Bank of Morrow county and the Mt. Gilead Water, Light, Heat & Power Co.

Civil War Veteran Who Fought at Gettysburg Dies in Richwood

RICHWOOD, Feb. 27—A member of the Union army unit which fought in the famous battle memorialized by Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address is dead here today.

Stricken by a heart attack Samuel M. Robinson, 92, passed away this morning at the home of Mrs. Grover Jordan, a granddaughter, of Richwood. He became ill two weeks ago and last night at 11 o'clock the life of another Civil war veteran passed on to the last sound of taps.

He served in many of the Civil war engagements as a member of Co. G, 82nd O. V. I. He was born near Prospect Dec. 7, 1838 and spent most of his life in Marion county. For the last two years he had lived with his granddaughter here. Mr. Robinson was a retired farmer.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Richwood M. E. church in charge of Rev. A. L. Vandergriff. Interment will be made in the Prospect mausoleum.

He was a member of the G. A. R. post at Prospect and of the Methodist church at Green Camp.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Joseph Temple and Clarence Robinson of Prospect. A half-brother, Reuben Cowgill lives in Richwood. Five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren also survive.

He was married Aug. 12, 1869 to Miss Emma Brown. She passed away nine years ago.

CLOSE SCHOOL AT JOHNSVILLE

Health Authorities Discover Case of Scarlet Fever; Number of Exposures.

Special to The Star.

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 27 — A case of scarlet fever at Johnsville and the exposure of a number of the high school faculty to the disease, has forced the closing of the high school until the danger of spreading the disease is over. Dr. R. L. Pierce announced Thursday afternoon following a conference with Lloyd Craven, president of the board of education and the other board members.

The elementary grades will not be closed unless more cases develop.

Mrs. James P. Clark, wife of the superintendent of the schools, and the teacher of the East Miller rural schools is under quarantine. She was ill for several days but it was not pronounced scarlet fever until Thursday.

The coach of the high school basketball team, Trevor Davis, who piloted his team through a season marred with only one defeat, will not be with the team at the county tournament here and at Cardington today and tomorrow. In spite of the closing of the school the team is expected to play as none were exposed. Davis is under quarantine restrictions.

The school will be reopened sometime next week unless more cases devlop, Dr. Pierce stated.

HARDING CLOSES N. C. O. SKED TONIGHT

PRESIDENTS HOPEFUL OF HANDING GALION UNEXPECTED DEFEAT

Ready Out To Halt Rush of Ashland; Mansfield Entertains Bucyrus.

HOPEFUL of being the only team in the league to score a pair of victories over Galion this season, the Harding Presidents will play the home fair of the season tonight for the closing game of the North Central Ohio league season. A victory for the Presidents will give Harding a record of four won and six lost in the competition while a defeat by Galion will eliminate any chance of the Orangemen tieing Ashland for the circuit title.

The possibilities of Harding defeating Galion the second setback of the season are not particularly bright although the Presidents have some clever basketball in them by battle earlier in the season Galion has an aggregation that leads the league's leading scoring and some more potent scoring threats.

Hoekstra, center, is the leading former of the Orangemen and will probably keep Harding's big man Ling, hustling if he is not held in check. Ling outplayed Hoekstra on the occasion of the first game between the two teams and may be able to do it again if he does Harding has a chance to win the game.

Riggs latest forward find, Vestal, will undoubtedly start the game at forward pairing with Morgan. Vestal handles a ball better than any man on the Harding team and although he lacks experience in competition will be a tower of strength for the locals.

Smith is almost certain to start one of the guard posts but will occupy the other is not sure. Clay has been in the starting lineup most of the season but did not show particularly good form in the Shelby game and may be replaced by some other member of the squad. Lindsey has the call to track should Clay not start. While Harding is concluding the season at Galion, Shelby will be making a supreme effort to hand Ashland its second beating of the year. If Ashland plays basketball at Shelby will probably win. However, should Coach Starn elect to order stalling tactics again the Whippets will probably be beaten.

The third game of the schedule looks to be "just another basketball game." Mansfield will clash with the lowly Bucyrus team on the Mansfield court. At this point it looks like Bucyrus had little chance to break through the tight defense of the Tyger team with enough consistency to offer serious opposition to the Men of Murphy.

Billy Petrolle Renews Rivalry With King Tut

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Feb 27 — King Tut and Billy Petrolle two hard punching lightweights renew their rivalry in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Five times these warriors have clashed before with Tut holding a slight edge over the "Fargo Express." Petrolle won the first two encounters then Tut captured two decisions and evened the score. Petrolle went into the fifth battle with plenty of support. He had climaxed a brilliant comeback campaign by giving Jimmy McLarnin the worst beating of his career. But Tut not a bit intimidated by Petrolle's sensational series of triumphs, knocked out the Fargo slugger in half a minute of the first round.

Now Billy threatens to quit the ring for good if he fails to handle his Minneapolis nemesis tonight. He's on the short end of the betting which, in view of what has happened at the garden in recent months should be a good omen. Short-enders have been consistently successful up eighth avenue way since the current indoor season began. Tut, in view of his decisive triumph over Petrolle at St. Paul naturally is the logical favorite.

TRIO OF CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR STAR AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

Caledonia, Pleasant Booked for Second Place Battle; Waldo Plays Prospect.

THREE fast games are likely to result tonight in the annual play-off in the Marion county basketball championship on the court of The Star auditorium. The teams which are scheduled to oppose each other appear to be evenly matched.

Morral and Kirkpatrick High schools will clash in the all-important battle of the three game program, the winner to be crowned champion of the county. Trailing this game will be the contest between Caledonia and Pleasant for the runner-up position. The winners of third place in the two sections of the county will compete in the third game of the three game program although nothing in the way of county honors will be at stake.

Morral winner of the title in the West half of the county seems to have the stronger team, if the comparative records of the teams count for anything. Morral has not been beaten in eight games while Kirkpatrick has been beaten twice in the same number of starts.

Despite the difference in records Kirkpatrick is expected to give Morral a tough battle. The fast half winners are fast and clever ball handlers and also hit the net with unusual accuracy. The offensive power of Kirkpatrick is divided almost evenly among the various members of the team whereas Morral depends on one or two men to do the majority of it's point getting.

Warren Heller of Morral will probably draw the attention of a large number of fans inasmuch as he has demonstrated unusual ability to score points this season. Heller, high point man for the entire county has garnered the huge total of 120 markers in eight games, an average of 15 points a game. Wood of Morral also has shown ability to hit the net as he has a total of 96 points for the year.

Caledonia will be a favorite to defeat Pleasant township although the latter boasts the better record for the season. Caledonia won four and lost the same number to tie with Martel and Waldo for second place in the league and won out in a play-off. Pleasant dropped three games and won five of the eight played.

Waldo and Prospect will probably attract no huge share of attention inasmuch as both have had a rather in and out session, neither demonstrating a consistency over any long period of time.

The first game is called tonight for 7:30 p. m.

WOOSTER WINS EASILY

By United Press.

AKRON O Feb 27—Wooster college scored heavily in the first half to defeat Akron university 41 to 18 in an Ohio conference basketball game here Thursday night. The invaders led all the way but Akron trailed by only eight points when the last period opened. Muller, Wooster forward, made 19 points.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

THERE are those individuals who refuse to walk under a ladder and there are those who simply go into spasms at the mere thought of a black cat traversing their path. It has even been said there are athletic teams which take great precautions to avoid incurring the enmity of the spirit world before they—the team, not the spirits you poor sap take part in any athletic competition.

• • •

The girls of Prospect High school are the first in this vicinity insofar as I know to do anything in particular to avoid irritating the spirits. Never does the Prospect team take the court for a game without first making its peace with the spirits via the well-known practice of rubbing a rabbit's foot.

• • •

Which member of the high school superstitious of Prospect adopted this means of eliminating spirit opposition I can't say. I have a hunch it was a young lady by the name of Biggerstaff who performs at guard for the basketball team. To her is entrusted the important job of carrying the good luck token and seeing to it that no one either of those who start the game or enter it later as substitutes, fail to rub the rabbit's foot before starting competition.

• • •

Well, it may be a lot of hooey but who cares about that? Prospect tied for the championship of its league and then won undisputed possession of the title by beating Pleasant Township 23 to 21. Maybe the rabbit's foot got the extra two points.

• • •

IT looks very much like Ashland would be undisputed possessor of the championship of the North Central Ohio basketball league after tonight. There is a possibility of a deadlock for the honor but such is not probable.

• • •

The manner in which Ashland has won the pennant is another good reason why something ought to be done about eliminating unnecessary stalling from basketball games. Ashland has won more games by stalling the ball this season than it has by playing basketball. There has been very few, if any, contests which Ashland has played which have not been slowed up considerably by the freezing tactics employed by Coach Rosie Starn's proteges.

• • •

I have no quarrel with Ashland for having won the pennant. They are welcome to it as long as Harding can't have it but it isn't any particular honor for a team to win a championship by refusing to play the game. Ashland may have a team perfectly capable of going through for the title without stalling as has been argued by some backers of the Hilltoppers. All of which may be perfectly true. I don't care to argue about that.

• • •

As yet no one knows whether Ashland has a good team, or just an average team. The team hasn't played long enough for anyone to find out for certain. The worse part of it is that it isn't likely to with only one game to play.

Shaw Asks Reservations For Monday Baseball Banquet

Elmer Shaw, secretary of the Marion baseball commission is urging all individauls who wish to attend the annual spring baseball banquet next Monday night to get their reservations into the Y. M. C. A. as soon as possible. Shaw states that he has received a fairly large number but not nearly the number which is expected to attend. All reservations should be in his hands by Saturday.

The banquet will be held in the Y on Monday night. Any one interested in baseball here is invited to attend the dinner. The 1931 baseball commission members will be elected.

Several new teams have asked to be allowed to enter competition here this season. Among them are the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Waldo Lutheran, Greenwood Evangelical, and Oakland Evangelical Sunday schools.

BECK TRAINING HARD FOR 10-ROUND BOUT HERE NEXT MONDAY

BABE BECK, whose traits right hand has been disastrous to most all of his opponents, had a workout in his Columbus headquarters for his 10 round match Monday night in the Shovel hall here.

Beck be it known comes from a fighting family and has a younger brother who is gradually developing into as equally a good mitter as Babe.

These two Babe and Herman can be found together continually. In the morning they are out on the roads trotting along at an easy pace to bring their breathing qualities up to par.

Then in the afternoon they pass through a half dozen rounds of milling. Sometimes railbirds would hardly recognize them as brothers as they seem to omit all brotherly regard once they have donned their padded mitts.

Babe is booked to meet Jude Strahl college boy from Indianapolis, in the main go. Strahl earning his way through Butler university, is the hard-hitting type of fighter that fans like to see.

Besides the headliner Promoter Frank Dean has arranged four other bouts each scheduled for six rounds.

REGIS SIKI BOOKED FOR MAT PROGRAM

Abyssinian Dark Boy Signed To Meet Allen Eustace Here March 10.

Another choice morsel from the wrestling stew will be offered Marion fans at the Steam Shovel gym it was revealed today following the announcement that the main go participants had been signed for the March 10 card.

Regis Siki the Abyssinian dark boy, will be the principal attraction in the card which has been outlined. Siki tips the scales at nearly 240 pounds and his performances in this section of the country have been causing a few jars to be felt at the top of the heavyweight championship ladder.

Siki will be called up to meet Allen Eustace in a two falls-out of three affair which should prove equally attractive to the cash customers as the Banasko-Chick crisp which drew nearly a thousand last Monday night.

Although weighing nearly an eighth of a ton Siki is plenty fast. A real tigerman of the ring, he is mowing down his opponents like nobody's biz. It will be the first meeting for Eustace and the dark one. Eustace is known here as a mighty active man possessing plenty of speed for a heavyweight.

In order to bring the two boys together here promoters were compelled to change the scheduled night for the bout. Tuesday was selected instead of the usual Monday night.

At 40 a man wishes he knew what he thought he knew at 20.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

How To End Rheumatism in Less Than a Week

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism and make thousands helpless. What you need is RU-MA, and need it right now.

RU-MA acts on the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver, and drives the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination — it eases pain the first day.

You must use an internal medicine to free the joints and muscles of crippling stiffness, soreness and torturing pain. That's why RU-MA succeeds while external remedies and pain deadening drugs give only temporary relief.

Henney & Cooper says no matter what kind of rheumatism you have, or how long you have suffered, try RU-MA—it must completely end all rheumatic agony or you get your money back.—Adv.

THINK of the advantage! A crisp, delicious, ready-to-eat cereal — very economical — and certified for balanced food value by a prominent analytical laboratory, whose seal appears on every package.

By eating Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit you are sure of getting vital food elements that are so often lacking in the average meal — especially breakfast. Elements that are necessary to real health.

Tasty, tempting biscuit! Double toasted — therefore crunchy-crisp on both sides. Made of whole wheat by a special Kellogg process that retains practically all the wonderful food value.

Each package of Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit is certified for Food Value. Each biscuit contains 10 important mineral salts. A bowl of milk and two Kellogg's Biscuits supply one adult requirement of calcium . . . half the phosphorus you need . . . and other elements, including the vitamins A, B, C, D, E, G. IMPORTANT: Kellogg's Biscuits are the more assimilable. Recent scientific research indicates

A DINING-ROOM TRAGEDY!

TABLES spread with delicious food . . . most of it soft, highly refined—lacking in the "bulk" and iron your body must have to keep well and strong.

This is the dining-room tragedy that occurs daily in millions of homes. No wonder most people suffer from constipation. No wonder headaches, backaches, and dull days are frequent!

Just add one delicious food to your table—and you will help correct all this suffering. Add Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in some form every day.

ALL-BRAN adds the necessary "bulk" or "roughage"—and iron—that is so often lacking in our diet today. This bulk is needed to prevent constipation—to sweep the system clean of poisonous wastes—to exercise the intestines and keep them healthy.

ALL-BRAN is delicious as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over other cereals or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases with each meal. At your grocer's—in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Soap and Hard Water Alone Will Not Give Best Dish Washing Result

Local housewives claim amazin results when new water-softenin cleanser is added in washing anything Takes ¼ the soap—saves ½ the time

A NEW discovery is cutting dish washing time in half—eliminating greasy film on dishes and the scum in the dishpan—the penalties you local women have been forced to pay for the hardness of city water.

It is not a soap but a water-softening cleanser that makes any soap more effective in cleansing results by changing "hard" water to "soft". And you need use only one-fourth the soap formerly needed.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene that you add to your washing water. Just a teaspoon or two.

Instantly, it takes all the harshness out of that water. Makes it soft as rain water.

At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly DISSOLVES all dirt, stains and grime. And thus cuts washing time ONE-HALF or more.

Use the soap or soap flakes you ordinarily do. Then see for yourself the amazing results. During 1930 women used over 33,000,000 packages of Climalene for washing, for cleaning and in the dishpan.

Laboratory Proved

To assure results to you, we buy fine things, lingerie and delicate fabrics, costly china. Then by repeated washings, try to spoil or fade them.

Consider, please, what those things mean to you. Consider, too, that the minute you put this creation into water, all harshness is taken away—your hands protected from roughness, made soft, smooth and white. Then try it.

Remember the name—Climalene Your grocer has it in 10c and packages.

PROFIT TAKING CAUSES DROPS

Professional Traders Keep Bull Market Simmering Despite Declines.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Professional traders kept the bull market in stocks simmering today by stirring up several of the specialty and minor issues, after speculative fires in the recent leaders were cooled by a wave of profit-taking.

The list sold off substantially during the early trading, a handful of shares losing 2 to 4 points, but other shares were shortly brought forward to show gains of 2 to 5, and losses were largely recovered. The advance was facilitated by a firm market for copper metal, which carried the copper issues up a point or two. The volume of trading slackened considerably from the pace of the past three days.

A few favorabel 1930 earnings statements appeared. Both Borden and Grand Union showing gains over 1929, and International salt showing a reduction of only about 1 per cent. These issues firmed moderately, the last named influenced in part by report that the past two months showed gains over 1930.

The market was apparently uninfluenced by the latest progress of the soldier bonus bill, for veto and repassage had been confidently expected in Wall street. The effects of uncertainty over the forthcoming announcement of new government borrowing, however, was clearly visible in the report of the week's volume of new bond financing, which amounted to less than $20,000,000. Credit continued abundant, however, while call money again freely offered outside at one per cent. The weekly reserve statements showed that the reserve banks had withdrawn more credit.

The report of building contracts let in the third week of the month showed substantial shrinkage from the first two weeks, but the aggregate for the first three weeks indicates a normal seasonal gain. The week-end business and mercantile reviews indicated that business recovery had made little, if any further progress in the past few days.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

A still further pickup in egg prices was noticeable on the local retail market this morning. Prices advanced at least a cent, setting the retail quotations at 19 to 20 cents a dozen.

Still further advances are expected Saturday and early next week, if Marion prices keep pace with quotations in other parts of the state where egg prices are rallying steadily.

MARKET SHOWS STEADY TONE

Grain Prices Display Steadiness After Sharp Setback Yesterday.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—Grain prices displayed notable steadiness early today, contrasting with sharp setback which followed first announcement of proposed stop loss export selling of government sponsored wheat. A majority of traders acted on opinions express that moves to dispose of American seaboard stocks of wheat would be helpful in avoiding congestion later. Opening at ⅛c off to ⅛ up wheat afterward held near the initial range. Corn started ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher and subsequently showed little change.

Enlarged general selling which later developed in corn carried that cereal down to a new low price record for the season, and also acted as a pronounced drag on wheat. All grains were given a jolt, too, by reports that American farm board allies had sold No. 1 hard winter wheat to Antwerp at the equivalent of 10 cents a bushel under Chicago May delivery. The terms implied wheat handed over on vessel at the Gulf of Mexico and free of all charges except the purchase price and ocean freight.

Market breaks which resulted from corn weakness and from Antwerp news about United States wheat export transactions led soon to losses of more than a cent a bushel both for corn and wheat. Except the Antwerp purchases European demand for North American wheat overnight was reported as disappointing. Domestic primary receipts of wheat were large, 1,250,000 bushels compared with 726,000 a year ago. Oats weakened with wheat and corn.

QUARTET TO SING

Grace Evangelical Church Group on Revival Program.

"The reason so many delay the matter of salvation and do not get right with God is because they are too much attached to the world and are lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God," Mrs. Edna Beougher Hughes said in an evangelistic sermon last night at the Prospect Street M. E. church on "When and How." There were 10 responses to the altar call. Rev G. G. Canfield of First Church of the Brethren conducted the opening song service. Robert Swisher sang two solo numbers.

"Everyone should yield himself to God," she continued, "because this may be the last and only opportunity you will have, you do not know what is coming and Jesus never will be nearer."

The Ladies' quartet from Grace Evangelical church will sing tonight.

CONTEST ENDS

Losers Entertain Winners in King's Daughters Event.

Winners in a Lincoln penny contest held in the Good Cheer circle of King's Daughters were entertained by the losing side at a party last night at the home of Misses Mildred and Pauline Ruhl of 288 Lafayette street. The contest covered a period of a year. In a short business meeting, plans were made for a potluck dinner to be held in connection with a work meeting, March 12 at Epworth M. E. church. Miss Imo Hornby, Miss Helen Creps and Mrs. Harry Iler will act as a committee. It was decided to hold the same contest in the coming year, with Miss Kathryn Gelbaugh and Mrs. Edwin Cheney as captains.

Devotionals were led by Miss Zelma Schwelafurth. The president's message, "Quo Vadis," was read by Mrs. Harry Iler, after which Miss Elizabeth Pace and Miss Mildred Ruhl, in colonial costumes, played a piano duet, "Poet and Peasant Overture." A letter, "Round the World," was read by Miss Della Larson. Concluding the program was a poem, "Day by Day," read by Miss Creps.

In a social hour several contests were enjoyed, honors going to Miss Gelbaugh and Miss Horney. Miss Lois Snodgrass was presented a gift for having saved the most Lincoln pennies in the year. Members of the losing side, wearing colonial dresses, served a lunch with appointments suggestive of Washington's birthday.

CLUB GUESTS ARE FARMERS

Marion Kiwanians Have Speaker from Agricultural College.

Farmers should build better and more durable farm buildings, R. C. Miller, of the faculty of the college of agriculture in Ohio State university told Marion Kiwanians and their farmer guests at the Marion club yesterday.

The occasion was a farmers meeting of the club, with heads of Marion county granges and heads of other rural groups and departments present. The meeting was in charge of John H. Clark, who obtained Professor Miller as a speaker.

Speaking on a topic, "The Value of Farm Buildings," Professor Miller said farmers have not kept up farm buildings in the last 30 years in pace with the natural depreciation of these buildings. Too many farmers build just for the present, not for the future, he said.

Farm buildings represent a sizeable portion of the agricultural investment of the country, he said. A total of $650,000,000 is invested in farm buildings in this country, representing 28 per cent of the total valuation of all farm property.

"This means buildings cost the average farm $200 a year, or 15 per cent of the average income of each farm," Professor Miller continued. "But after all, farm buildings are one of the most important factors about a farm, as they represent the farmer's home. We can't farm without buildings," he said.

Too often the building program is the last item on the farmer's budget, and often he does not get to it, according to Professor Miller. It should rank among the most important items in the budget, he said.

President Asa Queen announced that May 28 is definitely set as the date for a divisional meeting of all clubs in this Kiwanis district. The meeting will be in Marion and will terminate a series of inter-club meetings in which the "good will" chest, originated by Lieut. Gov. Harding of this district, has traveled from club to club.

Several Kiwanis dignitaries have been invited to participate in the district meeting, which will be held here at night.

GETS $10 FINE

John Burgener Appears in Court After Auto Accident.

John Burgener of Bellefontaine avenue was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty in municipal court early yesterday afternoon to a charge of intoxication. He paid the fine and was released.

Burgener has just recovered from injuries sustained in an automobile accident more than two weeks ago. He was a passenger in a Chevrolet coupe driven off the end of Center street at the stockyards by Dr. R. H. Finefrock of Prospect. Dr. Finefrock is scheduled to appear in court Saturday to answer a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Marion Dancing Master Teaches Steps to Children of First Pupils

John K. Schwinger Celebrates Thirty-First Anniversary of Work Here.

JOHN K. SCHWINGER

This year to some folks is just another year and an odd one at that but to John K. Schwinger of 140 North Prospect street, it marks the thirty-first anniversary of his career as a dancing teacher in this city.

Starting in years and young in the days of his profession Mr. Schwinger chose Marion as the place for trying out his "steps" and for more than three decades has numbered more than 4,000 pupils in his classes. Today finds him teaching many of the children of his "first pupils."

Songs Now Old

Such melodies as "Sweet Bunch of Violets," "Dream of Heaven Waltz," "After the Ball," and "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," are a few of the melodies which were "hot stuff" when Mr. Schwinger started to make a business of teaching folks the art of tripping the light fantastic. He came to Marion from Tiffin, where he had something like a year he had conducted classes and for two years prior to that while living in some tome town of Fremont, he played the part of itinerant teacher with classes in a number of those towns.

Mr. Schwinger's arrival in Marion was not quite as auspicious as his reception in a smaller town earlier in his career when he was met by a delegation of potential pupils at the early morning train, escorted to the hotel and later shown around the town by a committee delegated to entertain him, but it was an event at least to him and his future class. He spent his first night in the European hotel where "Charley" Smith presided as greeter.

A full dress suit, a cane and the mastery of the intricacies of 19 fancy steps were the "stock in trade" with which the new dancing master stepped before his class in the old Tally Wag hall to alternately awe and inspire them, that night of Jan. 6, 1900. He had been in Marion a few days before at the invitation of Fred Crow and after a business conference agreed to open a class here providing a guarantee of 25 scholars would be forthcoming.

Class Recruited

That somebody did some campaigning was proven by the fact that 24 pupils faced the "teacher" for their first professional lesson. Miss Isoah Quigley, now Mrs. Thomas H. Scott of South Vine street, played the piano for the "opener" and remained with Mr. Schwinger as pianist for some time. Among his first pupils were Fred Haberman, Harry Haberman, John Snowden and Miss Smiley.

If business were going to thrive in the dance game, more pupils were needed in the class, so the new dancing teacher settled on the idea of giving a free ticket, good for 13 lessons to the pupil procuring six new scholars. Although this did not go over so big with the pupils, only one, "Jimmy" Smith being able to fill the quota, business did thrive, however, and when the season ended the class membership numbered 129 pupils.

Mr. Schwinger's second season found him housed in the old Opera house which he rented from C. E. Perry for $150 for the term, and which was something of a change from the $2.50 per night which he paid for the Tally Wag hall. After remaining a second season in the Opera house where the rent was raised to $300 for the term, Mr. Schwinger decided to take over the hall in the new Huber building on West Center street. And what a gala event was the opening ball. Tickets sold for $2.50 a couple and this included transportation to and from the hall in "hacks" belonging to the late "Cap" Drake.

Days of Grand March

Those were the days when dances opened with the "grand march" and the dancers swept through the maze of the waltz, two step, Oxford minuet, threestep, schottisch, rush polka, statuesque minuet, new woman waltz and the square dance. Mr. Schwinger has seen come into the spotlight of popularity everything from the "Man in the Moon Waltz," the "K of P Triangle," the cakewalk, fox-trot, barn dance, the turkey trot, to the newest of toddles and jazz steps, and now finds his "steps" turning again to the old fashioned waltz and twostep. "There will be no great change in dancing until we have more new shows with captivating musical scores," Mr. Schwinger says.

Dancing has ever been a popular form of entertainment in Marion and Schwinger's hall on North Prospect street, in which Mr. Schwinger has been located since 1912 is the center for gatherings of this kind.

Mr. Schwinger was instrumental in the organization of the Wednesday Dance club, which had as charter members Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King and Philip Ruehrmund. This club is now in its thirtieth season. The club was organized while Mr. Schwinger still taught in the old Opera house where he also had as pupils the late President Harding and Mrs. Harding, the late Judge Boston G. Young, Joseph D. Matthews, Dr. H. L. Uhler, the late E. K. Uhler and numerous other prominent citizens of the city. Members of the Mutt and Jeff club, although not organized with Mr. Schwinger have held practically all their outstanding social affairs with him, as have the Nine to Twelve Dance club, organized about 10 years ago and the Jolly Dance club organized about seven years ago.

An editor has to know, so facts are his game whose pursuit he never neglects.

Community, Home Topic at LaRue Club Meeting

LARUE, Feb. 27—Mrs. E. H. Lingo was hostess to members of the Twentieth Century club at her home Tuesday afternoon. The subject for the program was "Home and Community Day." Responses to roll call were "Rules for Health" and Mrs. M. C. Clements appeared on the program with the subject, "Responsibility of the Club Women to the Community"; Mrs. E. E. Blazer followed with "What Our Schools Have Helped Us To Achieve." "Effects of Feminism on the Home" was discussed by Mrs. J. W. Hoagland after which Mrs. A. W. Jones gave a selected reading.

STUBBORN SORE QUICKLY YIELDS TO RESINOL

"For a long time I was incapacitated by a sore which resulted from a sliver run under my thumb nail. Practically my whole hand became infected. For three months my thumb would not heal and nail would not grow on it. After trying several prescribed treatments to no avail, I purchased Resinol Ointment. Inside of two weeks the sore began to heal and after the third week the new nail was almost complete." (Signed)—

Save! at Grant's 25th Economy Sale

The Population of An Empire Saves at Grant's —Especially During Jubilee Year

Mr. Grant's first store served approximately 75,000 people, when he opened it in Lynn, Mass. in 1906.

In 1931, our 25th Jubilee Year—Grant's will serve a conservative estimate of 50,000,000 people,—the population of an Empire.

And the savings brought to each person by Grant's low prices, if multiplied by the number sharing in the savings, would equal a king's ransom.

It is this saving which Grant's celebrates in its Silver Jubilee Year.

The Michigan house has approved a referendum on the electrocution of first-degree murderers. It really begins to look as though the reign of the sob-sisters up in Michigan may be nearing its end.

Colonel Bundesen, of Chicago, has about been persuaded not to run as an independent and thus complicate the mayoralty race of the two old party candidates. It would be interesting to know just what influence prompted thought of an independent candidacy. Naturally, the country will have its suspicions on this point.

The state department of highways this week announced that contracts for highway and bridge work amounting to $1,500,000 will be awarded within a few days. That listens mighty good in view of what it will mean in the way of reduction of unemployment.

Glen W. Watson, of Detroit, has invented a combination mechanical and radio apparatus by the use of which messages may be transmitted by radio and received upon a typewriter. Yet it wasn't so many years ago that the typewriter was considered wonderful. We of this age are moving right along in the development of marvels.

When a candidate for citizenship was asked by the federal naturalization examiner up in Detroit for his name in full, the answer was: "My real name is Vazil Rasko Feiarravoc Inomooceuigearmoeleeoul."Vazil seeks Americanization, but his name demands it.

France has agreed to cut 40,000 tons from her demands made at the London conference, but it isn't explained whether her change of heart is due to a desire to meet Italy half way, or the result of the falling-off in business in recent months which has resulted in a manifest determination over there to reduce expenses.

Out in Kansas City, Missouri, a woman is being held for the fatal shooting of her husband, which, she says, occurred while the two were struggling for possession of a revolver borrowed by her from a neighbor after her husband had criticized her for listening in on Rudy Vallee. Were the crooner able to sing the strange infatuation of some of the weaker members of the other sex might more easily be understood.

Mr. Stone Grows Unpopular.

Bestowal of patronage by reason of relationship rather than merit is a red flag to the people of any republican government conducted idealistically. Unfortunately, however, the United States does not always follow an idealistic pattern. And this is very true of congress, which in addition to other sins against the ideal, is inclined to close its eyes to nepotism.

Representative U. S. Stone, of the Fifth district of Oklahoma, has not found it easy to follow the crowd, choosing rather to call attention to evidences of offenses of legislators guilty of this particular sin. By so doing, he has made himself mighty unpopular, even to the extent of getting the cold shoulder from his fellow-members in congress. His proposal to make unlawful for any legislative, ministerial or judicial officer to appoint any person related to him when the pay is to come out of public funds literally has stirred up a hornet's nest. And why?

Because, back of it are certain embarrassing allegations. One-tenth of the money paid out for house clerk hire, it is charged, goes to relatives of members, many of whom never do one bit of actual work. Two years ago the amount allowed senators and representatives for clerk hire was increased approximately one-third, yet the clerks who do the actual work have received virtually no increases, according to Representative Stone. Relatives have been the benefactors.

There are other embarrassing charges, such as one that the daughter of a representative signed vouchers for $3,500 last year and spent almost the entire amount abroad. Another charge concerns a southern member, who has paid his father $16,000 for clerical services, although that gentleman never has been in Washington in his life.

All these are legitimate spoils, in the opinion of congressman, but they are bound to be more or less irritating to the taxpayer. The complete exposure of the practice, if it could be accomplished, would be most interesting, but there are numerous manifest difficulties. Not the least among them is that when one does not follow the trend, he is not permitted to do much of anything.

To End "Lame Duck" Sessions.

Having passed the house by a vote of 289 to ninety-three, the Gifford-Norris resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution which will abolish "lame duck" sessions of congress, advance the date of presidential inaugurations and establish a new line of presidential succession when necessitated by death or other cause, now goes to conference.

Although the resolution offered by Senator Norris and approved by the senate was entirely rewritten in the house, the difference between the two is largely one of phraseology, the one material change being the amendment to the original resolution offered by Speaker Longworth limiting the second session of each congress to four months ended on May 4. This amendment is said to be objectionable to Senator Norris, but it is anticipated that his objection will be overcome.

The resolution in its present form provides that the proposed amendment must be adopted by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states before going into effect. Under this resolution the terms of the president and vice president end on the 24th day of January and the terms of senators and representatives at noon on the 4th day of January of the years in which such terms normally would end. Congress would assemble on the 4th day of each January instead of on the first Monday in December. The president would be sworn in on January 24.

The resolution provides that "congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meetings shall be on the 4th day of January unless they shall by law appoint a different day."

"If the president-elect dies," another section reads, "then the vice president-elect shall become president. If a president is not chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the president-elect fails to qualify, then the vice president-elect shall act as president until a new president has qualified; and the congress may by law provide for the case whether neither a president-elect nor a vice-president-elect has qualified, declaring who shall then act as president or the manner in which a qualified person shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a president or vice president has qualified."

Much my be said for the resolution, for should such an amendment as proposed therein be ratified it unquestionably would make congress more immediately responsible to the people by substituting within two months of election day a session of the new congress for what now goes as the "lame duck" session of the old congress, many members of which have been defeated for reelection, thus replacing the present three-month short session with a short session of four months.

If there is ground for objection to the proposed amendment it is that it offers congress opportunity to tinker with the present basic law regarding the election of a president in the case of the death or failure of both the president-elect and the vice president-elect to qualify.

Senator Davis, of Pennsylvania, says that, if the rumor that a senator received $100,000 for lobbying for a domestic sugar company, or any other company, refers to him, it's a lie, and he demands that the rumor, in justice to all members of the senate, be investigated at once. Plain talk like that should make those responsible for the rumor realize that the time selected for springing it was all the psychological one.

Unable To Serve.

Governor White, no less than Martin L. Davey, regrets the latter's refusal to serve as a member of the state conservation council. Mr. Davey would have lent a considerable weight of influence to the council. The work it was created to do lies parallel to the line of his private business.

In rejecting the governor's offer, Mr. Davey commends him for his announced purpose of "untieing" the hands of the conservation council, and giving assurance that it will not be conducted on the basis of ordinary political considerations. With an appealing note of sentiment, Mr. Davey says: "Your firm procedure along these lines will make those who love outdoor Ohio love you too."

While conservation is not a "live" issue in Ohio, it is an abiding one, capable of taking a prominent place at a moment's notice. The public joins in the hope for proper conduct of the conservation council's activities with those fittingly voiced by Mr. Davey.

Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, the father of the eighteenth amendment, has introduced a proposed amendment to the Volstead act to make home wine-making illegal. If the law can not successfully be enforced as it is, wouldn't it complicate the situation still more to broaden its scope?

Returning to Brussels from Moscow, Emile Vandervelde, Belgian labor leader and president of the Second—Socialist—International, predicted that the soviet five-year plan will fail unless Russia is able to get more skilled workmen and engineers, and that its failure will mean the worst dictatorship the world has ever seen. That would be going some, but such a situation would not be incompatible with many developments in Russia since the Bolsheviki took control.

The Belgenland, at sea between Shanghai and Hongkong, a day or two ago conversed by radio telephone with London, 7,000 miles away, establishing a new ship-to-shore long-distance record. So many and so wonderful have been the developments of science and invention during the last few decades that we are beginning to take them as a matter of course and do not appreciate the marvel of them to the full.

In his statement to the jury, the attorney for the three men charged with the killing of Gerald E. Buckley, the Detroit radio announcer, announced that the defense would "prove police officers let Buckley's killers get away and wanted them to escape." Charges against the Detroit police force have been such in recent months that it is difficult to understand why the police themselves do not demand a showdown. If such charges go unrefuted the public will be inclined to believe that there must be some fire where there is so much smoke.

ONE BLESSING OF WORLD DEPRESSION.

Editorial Opinion.

A REBUKE TO THE LITIGIOUS.

No other decision on the constitutionality of the eighteenth amendment than that which was rendered yesterday by the supreme court was to have been expected. No other decision was possible. That court could not conceivably have ruled in favor of the fantastic judgment of the court below, which itself transgressed the very Constitution. It has been indicated that the appellate judge who rendered the opinion that the amendment was invalid because it had not been ratified by conventions in the states instead of the legislatures, as the resolution of congress prescribed, did not himself expect his judgment to be affirmed. It is the belief of many that he gave that opinion, not because he believed it justified by the Constitution, but because he saw in the plea presented to him the last remaining hope of setting aside the eighteenth amendment.

It was doubtless due only to the novelty of the plea, that the principles of "political science," the "political thought of the times" and a "scientific approach to the problem of government" required the convention method of ratification, even though the Constitution permitted otherwise, that the decision delivered yesterday was of such length. The case was so simple that it required only a very brief rejection, without analysis. Yet it is as well that the court, in the person of its youngest member, presented the finding in a reasoning that made specifically plain the absurdity of the claim that congress erred in its prescription of the legislative method of ratification.

"The Constitution was written to be understood by the voters," remarks the court. "Its words and phrases were used in their normal and ordinary meaning as distinguished from technical meaning. Where the intention is clear there is no room for construction and no excuse for interpolation or addition."

Were this truth fully and definitely recognized there would be less litigation, and more justice. The courts are congested with cases arising out of the disputation of counsel, intent upon making ground for litigious action rather than upon arriving at the meaning of the law. The raising of fantastic points of interpretation, the evasion of the plain sense of the statutes and the creation of hyperbolical hypotheses mark the practice before the courts, of all grades. Therein lies one of the causes of the comparative breakdown of law in this country.

Given an honest intention to arrive at the meaning and intention of the law, those who seek the courts can obtain decisions that form dependable guides to conduct and performance. Unhappily a large percentage of the pleas and appeals to the law in court are on the contrary to secure warrant for illegal actions or to effect delay, in the hope of eventual escape from responsibility and penalty for infractions.—Washington Star, February 25.

TWELVE GREATEST WOMEN IN LAND.

When five men start out to select the "twelve greatest women" in the United States and are given 2,786 names to select from they have a job that might well dismay the stoutest heart. The survey in this case was conducted by Good Housekeeping magazine, and the judges were the former secretary of war, Newton D. Baker, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Booth Tarkington, Otto H. Kahn and Bruce Barton. That is a jury that should inspire respect. The women they decided upon are Grace Abbott, chief of the federal children's bureau; Jane Addams, social welfare worker; Cecelia Beaux, artist; Martha Berry, founder of the Berry Mountain schools in Georgia; Willa Cather, novelist; Carrie Chapman Catt, suffragist; Grace Coolidge, wife of the fomer president; Minnie Maddern Fiske, actress; Helen Keller, blind genius; Florence Rena Sabin, scientist and educator; Ernestine Schumann-Heink, singer, and Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke college.

It must be addmitted that these are all eminent women, but whether they are the "greatest" in the United States may well be a matter of controversy. In the first place, it is not easy to decide what it meant by the "greatest." A person may be great in some particular line of work and ordinary in other respects. It might be safer to say that those selected are the most notable in this country. Even with this qualification the judgment of the jury might easily be open to debate.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Monday, February 27.

An unknown man was hit by a Big Four train at the Union station and instantly killed.

L. G. Jones was named by the county commissioners to fill out the unexpired term of Treasurer W. C. Wottring, who died the day before.

The life of Walter Anderson, who had stumbled and fallen on the Big Four railroad track, was saved by Albert St. Germain, who jumped from a street car and dragged him off the track just in time to save Anderson from an approaching freight.

Indigestion and Nervous Disorders.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Nothing is more startling than to be seated in a theater and have your neighbor suddenly slump in his seat, "throwing a fit," as the slang would have it. That is exactly what happened in a theater the other evening. You can imagine the excitement and furor caused by this incident. One of the theater goers had an attack of epilepsy.

Epilepsy is a disturbance of the nervous system, in which there are more or less regular attacks of unconsciousness. These attacks may be associated with or without convulsions.

When there is loss of consciousness without the convulsions, the doctors give the condition the name, "petit mal." If the loss of consciousness is accompanied by general convulsions, it is known as "grand mal."

These names are not important to most of us. But since they are used occasionally in general conversation, I merely mention them.

Epilepsy still remains one of the great unsolved mysteries of medicine. The doctors understand its mechanism and readily recognize the disease. But it is extremely difficult to find the cause of many of the cases.

Of late, there has been a tendency to look upon this condition, not as a disease, but as a symptom of disease. Much research work is being done to find what things bring on an attack and how best to control the attacks.

It has been noted in many cases that digestive disturbances of a severe nature appear to be factors in producing epileptic attacks. When these disturbances are controlled, there is likely to be a reduction in the number and severity of attacks, even though they do not disappear altogether.

Undoubtedly, fatigue and nervous excitement are factors of great importance. Severe physical exertion and possibly atmospheric changes and residence in high altitudes, have their part in producing this undesirable condition.

Birth injuries, chronic alcoholism, and hereditary tendencies are factors that must be considered. Unfortunately little in the way of prevention has yet been discovered.

Never become excited if you are near one who is having an epileptic spasm. The condition is easily recognized by the sudden loss of consciousness, frothing at the mouth and the twitching of the body. These are the common symptoms.

Try to help the victim. If you will keep cool you can do so and perhaps prevent the damage the patient may do himself.

During the attack, a cork, a piece of wood, even a lead pencil, should be placed between the teeth. This is done to prevent biting of the tongue, which frequently happens. Loosen the clothing and place the patient on a couch or the floor.

The attack passes off quickly and no special treatment is necessary. Usually it is followed by a period of quiet sleep for an hour or so. If the convulsions persist, a physician should be called. He will give the proper medication.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

LONGING. Q—How long does it take to recover from a nervous breakdown? What diet would be most helpful? What causes this trouble?

A—This depends upon the extent and seriousness of the breakdown and the patient's general condition. With proper care and treatment, the patient should show improvement within a month or so, but there are cases where it takes much longer. A well-balanced diet should be suitable under the circumstances. The trouble may be caused by overwork, mental strain, shock or great grief. Improving the health in general should bring about the desired results.

The Word of God.

Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will He help the evildoers.—Job 8:20.

Prayer—O Lord, Thou art good to all, and Thy tender mercies are over all Thy works.

Josiah W. Gibbs.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Within recent years, the opinion has steadily been growing that Josiah Willard Gibbs was the greatest creative genius in theoretical science this country has ever produced. The reason for this very gradual development is the complexity of his work, the difficulty of understanding the symbols and formulas which he developed, and far-ranging scope and generality of his ideas. Einstein has attained universal recognition today as a very great scientist, although comparatively few are capable of understanding his theories. The theories of Gibbs are no less complex than those of Einstein, and universal recognition of his greatness is coming now, a quarter of a century after his death.

Gibbs was one of those extraordinary figures in the history of science who devote their lives indefatigably to the pursuit of scientific investigation and discovery, uninfluenced by considerations of either honor or financial reward. Born in New Haven, Connecticut, February 11, 1839, he came of a long line of forbears educated at Harvard and Yale. After a brilliant career at Yale, where he received in succession the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, he devoted some five years to special graduate work and was finally appointed tutor in Latin and natural philosophy at his alma mater. Finding these labors uncongenial, he left Yale after three years for extended studies in mathematical physics in Paris, Berlin and Heidelberg. It is an almost incredible fact that although he was appointed professor of mathematical physics at Yale in 1871, two years after his return to America, there was no salary attached to the post.

For ten years he labored unremittingly without any compensation whatever. Even after his services were sought by the newly established Johns Hopkins university, the salary paid him at Yale was quite small. He held his position at Yale, a scholarly recluse, for thirty-two years, with small material reward and only slowly advancing fame. Today his name is honored highly throughout the entire world.

During his studies abroad, Gibbs was profoundly influenced by classics, one of the founders on the subject of dynamics. The subject of heat and mechanical energy greatly occupies his attention. All these subjects felt the powerful impress of his deeply reflective intelligence.

Entropy, a fertile conception put forward by Clausius, was advanced to the first place in modern physical theory, with the extraordinary fertile consequence of what is commonly known as the second law of thermo-dynamics. Gibbs is rated today as the founder of chemical energetics.

Gibbs' very first paper was a memorable contribution to the subject of thermo-dynamics, winning the admiration of the famous Clark Maxwell at Cambridge university, England. Gibbs' masterpiece, "On the Equilibrium of Heterogeneous Substances," was epochal in its direct contribution, and in opening up many avenues for future research. It contained more than 700 formulas. Gibbs was highly honored in his lifetime. But the world of science is only just beginning to catch up with this pioneering intelligence of great creative fertility.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

An Expedition That Failed.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

In 1791, when the depredations of the Indians in the vicinity of Marietta and the Miami settlements became unbearable, Governor St. Clair determined to send General Harmar against the Indians in the Miami and Maumee districts, to instill the fear of the white man into them, but he first sent Return Jonathan Meigs to the British commander at Detroit to appraise him of the plan, and to assure him that the British posts would not be molested, and to urge him to give no assistance to the Indians.

This done, General Harmar left Cincinnati, in September with 1,300 troops. It looked like a formidable force, but the troops were poorly trained and disciplined. From the day the movement started there were daily losses by desertion. When the Indian towns were reached they were found abandoned. The British had not only notified the Indians of the attack to be made upon them, but had furnished them liberally with muskets.

When General Harmar's expedition reached the Miami and Maumee Indian town they found them absolutely deserted; there were not even squaws and children present. All the houses were burned and foods and other supplies destroyed. The march back to Cincinnati began. But after a day, General Harmar halted the main body of his troops and sent back a detachment under Colonel Myllys to see whether any of the Indians had returned. They had, in large numbers, Colonel Myllys found to his sorrow, and they fell with such force upon the detachment that an immediate retreat was ordered.

Coming suddenly in full flight before the Indians upon the camp where General Harmar was waiting with the remainder of his army, the whole camp was thrown into consternation and in disorder a hurried march to Cincinnati began, the Indians pursuing and harrying the rear the entire way.

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Feb. 27—Glance at the record for the past two decades in Latin-American diplomacy, and you doubtless will be impressed with this fact:

To the politically ambitious Latin-American opportunity to represent his country in Washington as minister or ambassador is a thing greatly to be desired. It seems that the Washington diplomatic post is about as near an ideal stepping stone to political preferment back home as could be desired.

Within the past few weeks Panama has called home its erudite minister, Ricardo J. Alfaro, envoy to Washington since 1922, to become president. And in 1930, the smiling handsome Olaya Herrera quit his legation in the capital to return to Colombia and make a successful race for the presidency.

These are only two. Since 1912, no fewer than seven Latin-American envoys to Washington have directly or indirectly assumed the presidency of their countries following service as ministers or ambassadors to this country.

• • •

American students of Latin-American affairs, however, are inclined to the view that such an interpretation is much like "putting the cart before the horse."

Rather do they point out that these seven men, who became presidents after serving as diplomats in Washington, were famous in their countries before coming to Washington, that the fact they were chosen diplomatic representatives here is proof that they were outstanding.

But the record is there.

Take Colombia, for example. Jose Vicente Concha, minister to Washington from 1902 to 1905, later became president and served from 1914 to 1918. And Herrera, Colombian minister from 1922 to 1930, is now the president of that country.

Gonzalo S. Cordova was Ecuador's minister to Washington from 1913 to 1917. He was inaugurated as president of his country September 1, 1924, and served until the following July.

• • •

Two former ministers of Panama to Washington have gone straight from the legation here to the presidency. Besides Alfaro, there is Belisario Porras. Porras was in Washington from 1916 to 1918. In 1918 he became acting president of Panama, serving until 1920, and in that year was elected president and served for four years.

Paraguay's Manuel Gondra represented his country in Washington for two years then went directly to the presidency in 1920.

Alberto Membrero represented Honduras here from 1912 to 1915, and on July 26, 1915 took over the presidency of his country as first designate and served until February of the following year.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Feb. 28

A DAY of very important events with very large opportunities for success and great achievement as well as difficult situations to overcome is the augury based upon a set of what astrologers denominate 'mixed influences.' However there is much promise of advancement preferment honors and help from those in places of position and power and in employment but the setbacks and oppositions must be met with resolution and also action with many disruptive forces vanquished. Sign all writings cautiously.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very important year, with much opportunity for advancement preferment gain favors and help from employers or those in power but attended by some disruptive and opposing forces to be stubbornly resisted and wisely manipulated. Sign papers carefully and change discreetly. A child born on this day may be versatile clever and ambitious although inclined to be restless and adventurous. With discretion and determination to resist obstacles it should rise to splendid place and achievement in life.

LAST NIGHT at the THEATERS

ETERNAL TRIANGLE IN RAILROAD PICTURE

A background of thundering trains, crumbling bridges and swirling waters is used in "Other Men's Women," the Warner Bros.-Vitaphone production which opened at the Ohio yesterday for a three-day run.

The "eternal triangle" makes up the plot. Jack a locomotive engineer and Lily, his wife, share a common affection for Bill, Jack's fireman, whom they take into their home as a boarder.

It is when the liking between Lily and Bill turns into love that the pastoral scene changes to one of dark complexity. Accusations of the husband as he and Bill start on a long run together results in Jack being hurled from the wrecked train and blinded.

Then follows retribution of the fireman, who had been drawn into the affair inadvertently, and the wife, who now devotes her days to her afflicted husband.

Grant Withers, Mary Astor, Regis Toomey and Fred Kohler have the principal roles while J. Farrell MacDonald also is in the cast.

SENATE DEFEAT OF VETO SET TODAY

Bill for 50 Per Cent Vets' Loans To Become Law Immediately.

the President His veto drew 40 votes more than were cast originally against the bill.

Before the house overrode the veto it turned a cold shoulder to a last moment attempt by the majority leader, Tilson of Connecticut to limit the veterans' loans to men in need. He was shouted down and the speaker ordered the vote.

The President's message termed the legislation "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of all the people"

It pointed out the measure would involve a potential outlay of $1,700,000,000, and its probable cost was computed by Veterans Administrator Hines at $1,600,000,000.

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation," Mr Hoover told congress

Stresses Human Angle

Most of his message, however, kept away from the treasury angle and pointed out the human phase, arguing the measure would do more harm than good to those who could draw money under it, while loading the taxpayer with a new burden and opening by precedent the way to still further outlays of similar types.

From Undersecretary Mills of the treasury came word that $400,000,000 would be sought immediately if the bill passed. The money is to be obtained by the sale of securities in the open market, he said, to meet the veterans' bureau estimate of the requirements during th quarter ending June 15.

PREPARED FOR RUSH

Loan Applicants Already on Hand at Veterans' Bureau

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—A group of applicants for veterans' loans, estimated at from 15 to 20, today waited in the lobby of the veterans' bureau for the senate to override President Hoover's veto. Meanwhile, many veterans sought information by telephone.

Officials said they were prepared for a rush of applications if the senate overrides the veto The house took such action yesterday

CHEVROLET DEALERS MEET HERE TONIGHT

Company Representatives To Be Speakers at Hotel Harding Session.

Chevrolet dealers from Marion and five nearby counties will hold their monthly dinner meeting tonight at Hotel Harding with E. T. Smith of Cleveland, zone manager, and H. E. DeVault, also of the Cleveland headquarters of the company, as speakers.

Heretofore the meetings have been held at Mansfield but the February gathering was brought here through efforts of Fred Haberman Jr., local dealer

Approximately 30 dealers from the six counties in this district will attend the dinner. The counties to be represented are Marion, Crawford, Wyandot, Richland Morrow and Knox, while the cities and towns from which the dealers will come are Marion, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, New Washington, Galion, Mansfield, Shelby, Jeromeville, Mt. AGREEMENT REACHED ON NAVY PROGRAM

After four days of conferences it developed last night that the senate and house were stubbornly at loggerheads as to the distribution of new naval construction between private and government shipyards.

Alarmed at failure of the conferees to get together, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, applied his persuasive ways on the unyielding managers. When this failed to develop an agreement, Senator Watson informed the White House of the situation. President Hoover late last night dispatched breakfast invitations to the contesting congressional chieftains

So early today they were headed for the White House to eat some bacon and eggs and receive admonishment that the time had come to find an understanding.

The administration, meanwhile, has obtained the naval legislation it wanted most at this session—$30,000,000 for modernizing three battleships

The $74,030,000 construction bill has been lost in the jam. It would have allowed money to build an airplane carrier, a new type cruiser-carrier, four submarines and airplanes.

TAX LEAGUE BOOSTS ROLL AT MEETINGS

Marion Men Are Speakers at Two Group Sessions in County.

W. Warner discussed the utility tax situation, bringing out points mentioned by Carhart in his talk at Grand Prairie More than 100 persons heard the speakers. Warner also spoke discouragingly of a bill before the legislature to relieve automobiles of personal property tax

Under present laws, the person with an automobile worth less than $100 is not taxed, while owners of expensive automobiles pay tax in proportion to the value of their car, Warner said. The new measure, he said, would relieve the rich man of this tax, throwing an additional burden on the small car owners.

Dr. F. C Smith discussed the increase in taxes, particularly school taxes. School costs in 1900 were $22 for each pupil for a year. In 1920 that figure increased to $88 and in 1929 to $112, according to Dr. Smith

In 1860, less than 13 per cent of tax money went for education work in Ohio, Dr. Smith continued. That figure was contrasted with the 46 per cent of tax moneys Dr. Smith says is now used for educational work

Aims of the Ohio Tax Reduction league, of which he is chairman, were explained by Dr. Smith.

POLICE RAID SECOND PHILADELPHIA CLUB

Searchers Confiscate Two Wagon Loads of Intoxicants; One Arrested.

By The Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27—Director of Public Safety Lemuel B. Schofield's police have raided two of Philadelphia's most prominent social organizations and clubmen were speculating today where they would strike next in their search for violators of the prohibition law.

The exclusive Philadelphia club was raided last night, the Manufacturers' club early yesterday.

Schofield personally conducted the raid on the Manufacturers' club, of which he was a member. Before leaving the building he wrote his resignation.

The raiders confiscated two patrol wagon loads of intoxicants at the Philadelphia club and 255 bottles of wines and liquors at the Manufacturers' club.

Only one man was arrested at each place, August Bolli, manager of the Manufacturers' club, and R. S Schronrinisen, steward at the Philadelphia club.

W. Norman Morris, president of the Manufacturers' club, said he knew nothing of the liquor which was found on the fifth floor of the 10-story building, and that members of the organization were opposed to intoxicants in the club. He said the rooms where the liquor was found were occupied by the "Fifty club,' an organization of members within the club. He said no liquor had been sold in the club since the advent of prohibition.

The raid on the Philadelphia club was one of the most startling in its 98 years existence Never before had there been any intrusion upon its quiet security. Strangers within its walls were rarities. Its membership roll is limited to some 550 members and has contained the names of many of the best families of Philadelphia.

Most of the liquor seized at the Philadelphia club was found in lockers

5 PLANES GO OVER

Quintet of Aircraft Pay Mysterious Visit to City.

Five biplanes paid a brief and mysterious visit to Marion today at 8 a. m. and after circling over the downtown section of the city continued in formation on their flight

They appeared from the southwest and after completing their brief maneuvers they headed for the northeast.

Each was painted blue and yellow. While they were not flying high, it was impossible to discern whether the lower wings carried the conventional star, the insignia of the U. S. army. They were believed to be new planes heading from Dayton to Cleveland.

MANY HEAR THREE SCHOOLS IN DEBATE

Harding Concludes Schedule with Bucyrus and Galion Teams.

Large audiences heard Marion, Galion and Bucyrus debaters yesterday and Wednesday afternoons in a non-decision forensic triangle meeting. Yesterday Harding High school's affirmative squad traveled to Galion and Galion's affirmative trio went to Bucyrus. Harding's negative representatives debated the Bucyrus affirmatives at Central Junior High school Wednesday afternoon. The Galion affirmative team met the Bucyrus negative team Thursday afternoon.

T. D Bain, debate coach at Harding High school, announced today that no further debates have been scheduled for the year, but that a non-decision meet may be held with the Delaware High school team later

Members of the Harding teams are: Affirmative, Henrietta Perfect, Joseph Roby, Whitney Cookston and Robert Rosenberg; negative, Bernard Brooks, Garnet Thomasson, Virginia Shipley and Catherine Marshall.

The Galion teams list the following members. Affirmative, Robert Root, Millie Healyes, Anna Mae Campbell and Patricia Cahill; negative, Anne Hodge, Helen Britton Virginia Henry and Martha Goshorn.

Bucyrus, teams include the following: Affirmative, Barbara Ryan, elen Hall, Kannel Ireland and Pearl Stuckey; negative, Edith Winklefoos. Geneve Healy, Aileen Philbin and Alice Quilter.

The team met last week in a judged debate in which Marion and Bucyrus teams defeated Galion. The triangle debated the question "Resolved: that chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the United States public"

"Ring Count" Is New Plan Of Figuring Earth's Age

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27—A new method of reading the earth's age by counting certain peculiar layers in her crust, just as tree rings are read, is in preparation here.

The layers are "varves," the geological name for thin annual deposits laid down many thousand years ago by the glaciers.

The reader is Prof A. E. Douglass, director of Steward observatory of the University of Arizona.

In one of the most amazing feats of modern science Douglass discovered a method of tree ring reading that identifies trees which were growing when the pyramids were building, that tells the dates of constructing prehistoric wooden houses of the American southwest, that identifies even the drouth years of past ages.

Now he proposes to apply this method to the varves. He has spent much time studying these deposits with their discoverer the famous Swedish Professor De Geer.

Water melting from the glaciers in summer deposited a layer of sand and dirt. In the winter this deposit stopped Very hot seasons left their finger marks in the form of extra deep deposits. Through thousands of years these successive layers were each season buried more deeply, pressed flat and hard, but as distinguishable as are tree rings, permanent leaves of history for whoever finds the key to their meaning Properly treated the varves are as distinctive as tiger's stripes. Douglass has counted 17,000 of them.

STATES TAKE LIVES OF EIGHT MURDERERS

South Carolina Electrocutes Six; Two Pay Penalty in New York

By United Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 27—Six Negroes were electrocuted today for the murder of two men.

"Tell the younger generation to obey the law and listen to what the white folks tell them," the condemned men said in a joint statement before they died.

In the order of their electrocution, they were: John Arkwright, Tillman Poozer, George Byrd, James Hicman, Robert Eidredge and Ernest Thomas.

All but Poozer were convicted of murdering B. W Hendrix, Lexington merchant, on the night of Jan. 6 this year. Poozer confessed he killed C. D Mills, Lexington county watchman.

Luciano, who for days had refused to eat more than a few morsels of food, had to be carried to the chair. Vellucia was stoical

REPUBLICANS VOTE TO BACK LONGWORTH

15 Refuse To Commit Selves on Party Candidates or Policies.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 — In harmonious mood the house Republicans last night decided to support Speaker Longworth and the present slate of officers for reelection next session.

But away from the party caucus stayed 15 members who refused to commit themselves, by attending, on either candidates or policies. Five of these were Kansas regulars, incensed at the final refusal delivered yesterday by Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee to consider oil embargo legislation at this session.

The rest were members of independent tendencies with various demands for legislation and further recognition of their group United, this group can hold the balance of power in the next house, for the membership is almost equally divided between the parties.

Representative Gerber, Republican of Oklahoma, although attending the caucus, said the oil decision was one the eastern states "will repent in sackcloth and ashes"

He said a sufficient number of western Republicans would join the Democrats in the next congress to "open up the tariff."

"When we do, the duties are going to be leveled and apportioned on eastern manufacturers on the same basis with their arguments against an oil tariff."

POLICE SEEK MOTIVE FOR POTTER MURDER

Hymie Martin Indicted, but Investigators Regard Work Only Half Done.

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 27— A first degee murder indictment today hung over "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, acknowledged rum runner and racketeer, for the slaying of former Councilman William E. Potter, but investigators regarded their work no more than half finished.

The motive for the killing remained as much speculation as when Potter's body was found 19 days ago and Detective Inspector Cornelius W. Cody said his investigation would be renewed along that line.

"That is the thing that interests us most just now," he said, after questioning of Potter's widow convinced him that the trouble which led to the killing was kept secret by the former politician.

Potter was slain on the eve of his fourth trial growing out of city land purchase frauds, and the investigation has been on the theory that either this or some connection with the racketeers was behind his murder.

The indictment against Martin was returned late yesterday after the grand jury heard the last of the 31 witnesses who presented circumstantial evidence against him. It was expected he would be arraigned today.

County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller said he would guarantee protection and courteous treatment of Mrs. Mary Outland Woodfield, sought as Martin's sweetheart, if she would appear to tell what she may know. He denied, however, that he was willing to offer her immunity.

Dr. Mary is the physician who first divided the public to the startling theory that dreams are merely expressions of our suppressed desires.

Considering the type of dreams we sometimes have Dr. Freud's views has been considered highly unsatisfactory and has been derided by some persons.

"Dreams are a sort of mental safety valve," Dr. Marcus said. "The activity of our subconscious mind while we slumber which leaves its impressions on dreams, affords a certain amount of relief to the suppressions of our conscious minds.

"A dream indicates some mental maladjustment which the subconscious mind works to correct. No matter how repelling no matter how grotesque and no matter how inconceivable every dream means something.

Freud's theory that dreams are suppressed desires has been misinterpreted by the public. That does not mean necessarily a person wants to do the things he dreams about. Each dream however does indicate some complex, some maladjustment or some repression the subconscious tries to overcome."

Chic Star Patterns

Practical and Simple

New Spring Ensemble.

Pattern 2108

For every occasion this spring, you may wear a frock with its matching jacket and be well dressed. The new lines are a little straighter and more youthful. Extremely jaunty is the sleeveless frock sketched, with its front pleated skirt and tiny bolero jacket. The jacket is hip length and the pattern is marked for a bolero if it is more becoming to you. Printed flat crepe is used for Pattern 2108, although one of the novelty cottons would be equally chic.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4¼ yards of 39 inch material.

The beret and scarf included in Pattern 709 are stunning with a suit or dress. Beret made for head sizes 20, 21, and 22. Fifteen Cents extra.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

COUPON

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents. Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to the pattern department THE MARION STAR BUREAU, Pattern Fashion Syndicate, Inc., 243 West 17th St., New York City.
